

LT. BECK SAYS HE QUIT BECAUSE OF CONFUSION, POOR POLICE TRAINING

Experience Is Lacking in 'System of Reprimands,' He Asserts—Tells of New Practices in County.

LT. ROY E. BECK said today he resigned from the St. Louis county police department because of "confusion" within the department and training procedures he considers unsatisfactory.

Beck termed the latter more a system of reprimands than of training. He contended the department's training procedures reflected insufficient experience in police work.

In many cases, Beck continued, emphasis is placed on education rather than experience in making assignments, and too much importance is given to theory rather than practical considerations. As an example, he assailed instructions to officers not to drive more than 60 miles an hour in the course of a chase, despite the fact there are not enough police cars available yet to make a sector plan fully effective.

Riot Guns Removed, He Says.

Riot guns have been removed from all police cars and are kept in the office despite the possible need for them in an emergency, Beck said.

Beck said that "spotters" regularly check the activities of members of the department in their on-duty hours, and that most of the policemen object to this.

Despite the wave of resignations, which include six patrolmen in the past three weeks, Frank Aschemeyer, acting chairman of the police board, said yesterday that "the department is going as well as might be expected." The comment was made following an hour and a half meeting of the board.

Aschemeyer said the session was devoted to preparation of plans for presentation to the County Council which would authorize the department to deputize members of police departments of county municipalities. The matter of proposed contracts with municipalities for the county department to furnish police service also was taken up, he said.

DuBois submitted a report on resignations from the department. Aschemeyer continued, but it was not discussed. A plan to have Sgt. Elmer Jarvis train mothers and other volunteers as school crossing guards was approved.

Comment by DuBois.

Beck was a deputy sheriff for eight years. In World War II he was a military policeman for the Marine Corps. When asked to comment on Beck's resignation yesterday DuBois said:

"These resignations are normal under the present circumstances. We have disciplinary and departmental rules and regulations, and there is reason to suppose that some cannot conform to these.

"Any former deputy sheriff that efficiently performs his duties has a place on the county police department," DuBois continued. "There is no plan afoot, nor will I permit one to be encouraged, nor will I encourage anything that would impose an undue hardship on any county officer."

Beck while a deputy sheriff had been on the gambling and liquor squad. He was looked upon by fellow officers as a "good officer." He was one of DuBois' original lieutenants, having been appointed July 1.

RED CHINA RULES OUT CEASE-FIRE IN GENEVA TALKS

But Peiping Radio Says People Are Hopeful of Positive Results From Parley.

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Red China expressed hope today for "positive results" in the talks with the United States at Geneva, but said any discussion of "cease-fire" in the Formosa dispute was out.

The Peiping radio declared that a "cease-fire between China and the Chiang Kai-shek clique" was a Chinese domestic affair which has nothing to do with the United States.

The Geneva talks, at the ambassador level, recessed Thursday until Monday.

Reaction to Dulles' Remarks.

A Peiping broadcast heard in Tokyo today commented on a press conference statement Tuesday by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that the path toward broad negotiations would be opened if the Peiping regime would renounce the use of military force.

Red China's position was set forth in a broadcast editorial in the official newspaper Peiping People's Daily. It again suggested a Chinese-American conference for "easing and eliminating tension" in the Formosa area. The editorial said:

"If, as Dulles said at his press conference on Aug. 2 what the American Government stresses is that differences between states should not be settled by force and what the United States Government seeks is not a cease-fire between the Chinese government and the Chiang Kai-shek clique but something much broader between China and the United States, perhaps in terms of the United Nations Charter declaration, then this is yet another question that, as China proposed long ago, should be discussed and settled in Chinese-American talks for easing and eliminating tension in the Taiwan area."

"The Chinese people do not want war with the United States and are ready to sit down and hold talks with the United States on eliminating tension in the Taiwan area. But this does not mean that they would agree to give up the exercise of their sovereign right over their own territory."

Hiroshima Calls on World Never To Repeat 10-Years-Ago Tragedy

HIROSHIMA, Japan, Aug. 6 (AP)—Hiroshima marked the tenth anniversary of its atomic destruction today with an appeal to the world "never to repeat the tragedy."

The birthday of war's first nuclear bombing dawned hot, with a few clouds dotting the sky, just like Aug. 6, 1945.

Survivors of A-bomb victims arose before dawn to secure places close to the center of the anniversary ceremony.

As the sun rose, they burned incense and strewed flowers at the foot of the cenotaph, a stone white arch bearing the inscription: "Rest ye in peace, for we humankind shall never repeat the mistake."

By 8 a.m., the crowd had grown to 50,000. All was still. The instant of 8:15 brought not the blinding flash and death of 1945 but the tolling of bells and sounding of whistles.

The throng knelt in prayer for the dead and for peace.

Mayor Tadato Watanabe, in the city's annual peace declaration, said: "We will continue to remind the world never to repeat the tragedy of Hiroshima until true world peace is established eternally."

Five hundred doves were released as he spoke.

"Our great fear of the atomic bomb," the Mayor said, "is not because we have experienced it, but because the people of the world do not understand how dreadful it is, because it occurred in a small dot of the world."

He added that "it is our obligation to remind the world that 6000 victims of the atomic bomb are not having adequate treatment. . . . There are more than 98,000 who are daily threatened with the fear they too may be affected by radioactivity."

During the memorial services, the names of 523 Hiroshimans confirmed the last year as atomic bomb victims were added to 58,305 confirmed up to last year.

The only police count taken says 78,150 died from the bombing.

CADETS DEFEND YOUTH DENIED A COMMISSION

Petitions Circulated Affirming His Loyalty—Navy Secretary to Study Case.

KINGS POINT, N.Y., Aug. 6—Eugene W. Landy, a top honor student of the United States Merchant Marine Academy, stonily watched his classmates sworn yesterday as ensigns in the United States Naval Reserve.

He was unable to take the oath himself because the Navy rejected his application for a commission Thursday for security reasons.

Landy, who received three special prizes yesterday for his achievements as a student of naval science and architecture, was not notified of the exact reasons for his rejection.

Bitter at the rejection, Landy said it was because his mother, Mrs. Deborah Landy of Bradley Beach, N.J., was a card-carrying Communist in World War II.

(The Associated Press quoted Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas as saying he will give the case a "full and impartial" review. Thomas said he learned of the case only this morning when he read it of in newspapers.)

Preposterous, Mother Says.

Mrs. Landy characterized the rejection as "preposterous" after the graduation exercises. She said she joined the Communist party in 1937, after her husband died, out of "intellectual curiosity."

She left the party in 1947 when "it became unpopular." She added, but she still subscribes to its official publication, The Daily Worker.

While Landy was downcast and somewhat bewildered at the Navy action, his classmates were indignant. They circulated a petition before the exercises affirming that their fellow graduate is "a fine classmate and a good American."

As they formed the graduation procession, many shook his hand and told him he had received a "raw deal" from the Navy.

As Landy's name was called to receive honors for his achievements in naval science, awarded by the Daughters of the American Revolution, the students gave him an ovation. They gave him another when he accepted a medal for his proficiency in naval architecture donated by V. Adm. Emory S. Land, and they cheered him as his diploma was presented to him by R. Adm. Gordon McIntock, superintendent of the academy.

Clarence G. Morse, head of the Federal Maritime Board, said he was "delighted to hear of the achievements of this young man."

GOVERNOR VETOES NEW HAMPSHIRE SWEEPSTAKES BILL

CONCORD, N.H., Aug. 6 (AP)—The State Legislature adjourned at 12:07 a.m. today after a 13-hour meeting in which it sustained Gov. Lane Dwinell's unexpected veto of a controversial bill that would have established the nation's only state-operated sweepstakes.

The Governor said the bill, designed to raise about $2,000,000 a year in state revenue, was "contrary to the best interests of this state."

The veto—first by the Republican Governor since he took office last January—followed protests by church leaders and others that the bill raised a moral issue "affecting the good name of the state, the cause of religion and the welfare of all our people."

The Governor, who earlier yesterday had indicated that he would sign the measure, said in his veto message that there was a possibility the sweepstakes might conflict with federal law in the event that the operation should, through inadvertence, not be confined to the proper jurisdiction of the state.

He said he was "delighted to hear of the achievements of this young man."

NEW ENGLAND ASKS FOR NURSES, 1005 CASES OF POLO IN 6 STATES

220 Victims in Corresponding Period Last Year—20 Deaths Reported in Massachusetts to Date.

BOSTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Dr. John H. Cauley, Boston health commissioner, issued a nationwide appeal to newspapers and radio stations last night for more nurses to care for New England's rising toll of polo cases.

Dr. Cauley's appeal came as the number of polo cases in the six-state area soared to 1005. Cauley called for all available full and part-time nurses to help in Boston's six hospitals. A clearing house for polo cases was established yesterday after Mayor John B. Hynes proclaimed a state of "limited emergency."

The Boston Health Department yesterday reported 26 new cases, bringing the city total this year to 301 and the Massachusetts number to 773. A year ago the state had 88 cases.

220 Cases Last Year.

The New England count of 1005 cases compared with 220 last year. State totals and the corresponding figures were: Connecticut 108 and 92; New Hampshire 42 and 14; Rhode Island 41 and 12; Vermont 18 and 6; and Maine 23 and 9.

Twenty polo deaths have been reported in Massachusetts to date.

State health officials said 19 children who received Salk vaccine were stricken with polo. In New Hampshire, state officials said five Salk-inoculated youngsters have polo. There have been no reported deaths among those receiving Salk inoculations.

Although Dr. Joseph Reardon, State Health Department epidemiologist, said there was no epidemic in Boston, health officials in Boston advised parents not to bring their children to the city.

Ball Game Trips Canceled.

Groups in Brockton and Adams, Mass., and East Hartford, Conn., canceled scheduled trips to Boston Red Sox baseball games. Of some 600 Pawtucket (R.I.) youngsters invited to Thursday's game, 250 refused.

Massachusetts health officials have said they do not recommend the closing of beaches and pools to swimming areas. Some communities, however, have temporarily ordered such places closed.

Six New Polo Cases Reported in Missouri in Week.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 6 (AP)—Missouri reported six new cases of polo last week compared with 19 for the same week in 1954. The number of cases reported so far this year has reached 66. In the same period last year the cases numbered 125.

TIPSY PASSENGER ON SUBWAY BELTS WOMAN WITH EGGS

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Clutching an egg-stained white dress in her hand, Miss Adrienne Ardzone, 20 years old, stood in court yesterday telling Magistrate Edward J. Chapman about the worst thing she ever had done.

She was on the way home from work Thursday night. Across the car came a duck egg. It splattered on her face.

Across the aisle, chuckling to himself, sat Alexander Johnson, 44. Miss Ardzone glared at him.

"Oh, so you want another one?" Johnson said, and let fly a second duck egg, which struck Miss Ardzone on the chest.

Miss Ardzone complained to the conductor, who kept the passengers closed at the next station until a transit patrolman arrived and arrested Johnson for disorderly conduct.

"I was intoxicated," Johnson told the magistrate as he pleaded guilty. Johnson said he had a few drinks, bought a sack of duck eggs for his wife and children and boarded the wrong train to go home. Then he got an urge to test his pitching arm.

Magistrate Chapman imposed a fine of $25 and ordered Johnson to pay his victim $25. Chapman suggested that Johnson take the pledge.

"I will never take a drink again as long as I live," he said.

RUSSIAN PREMIER INVITES FOREIGN ENVOYS TO OUTING

MOSCOW, Aug. 6 (UPI)—Soviet Premier Bulganin took the unprecedented step yesterday of inviting the heads of all diplomatic missions in Moscow to be his guests for swimming, boating and fishing this Sunday.

The invitation to the Premier's summer villa at Semenovka, just outside Moscow, was the first of its kind ever issued to diplomats here by a Soviet Government head.

Bulganin told the ambassadors and ministers to bring their wives and children for a day in the country as his guests.

The bid apparently was another step in easing cold war tensions.

As one foreigner in Moscow put it, "The thaw is really on."

Logger Does Not Want to Give Woman Up—Airman Apparently Doesn't Either.

By JOE HYAMS

TRUCKEE, Calif., Aug. 6—

When Airman Second Class Daniel C. Schmidt arrives in California Thursday after two-and-a-half years as a prisoner in Communist China, waiting for him will be his wife, their son, and her second husband, says husband No. 2.

Yesterday, in a section of Truckee known as Woodchuck Flat, the second husband, Alfred Fine, agreed to talk about the situation while his wife, Mrs. Una C. Schmidt (Una Fine), was away shopping.

"I don't even know what she's going to do myself," he said. "All I know is that we are in love. She hasn't told me what she's planning to do." But he added, "We both agree there will be no more publicity."

Fine is a logger, and when I found him he was sitting near the road by his trailer in blue jeans and sport shirt whistling. Nearby the little boy of Daniel Schmidt was playing around the parked automobiles.

When I asked him if he was worried about what choice his wife might make, he said, "Sure I'm worried. What man in his right mind wouldn't be worried?"

But he said the toughest thing of all would be the effect the future would have on the little boy, 2 1/2-year-old Danny. "I'm the only daddy he has ever known," he said.

I asked him why he didn't just give his wife up.

"If you love a woman, you stick to her," he said. "I plan to stick to her. She's my wife. I love her."

He said he and his wife had been on the phone to Washington and were told that there did not appear to be any legal problems attached to the case. Apparently the woman herself will have to make the final choice.

Airman Tries to Phone Wife Who Remarried.

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (UPI)—Airman Daniel Schmidt tried unsuccessfully today to reach by telephone the wife who remarried while he was a prisoner of the Chinese Communists.

Schmidt was wearing a gold wedding band when he came out of Red China but his finger was bare when he reached Tokyo, the joy of his homecoming dulled by the news that his wife Una had remarried.

He said he and his wife had been on the phone to Washington and were told that there did not appear to be any legal problems attached to the case. Apparently the woman herself will have to make the final choice.

FARMER CHALLENGES OFFICIAL TO DUEL—WITH SICKLES

CRAWLEY, England, Aug. 6 (AP)—Hugh Lanifer, 79-year-old farmer, sharpened his sickle at dawn today and peered over his eight-acre farm.

He had challenged the chairman of the local land tribunal to meet him "in mortal combat." Lanifer wants to save the fields he has tended for years from being swallowed up in a housing development. He picked sickles as the weapons.

No reply has been heard from the tribunal, which told Lanifer last week he would have to move off the tiny farm. But Hugh is not ready.

Marilyn Monroe to 'Commune' With Lincoln' in Bement, Ill.

BEMENT, Ill., Aug. 6 (UPI)—About 20,000 persons were expected to turn out today to see Marilyn Monroe and Bement's centennial celebration.

The blond actress said she would fly to this village of 1500 persons to "commune with Lincoln and the arts."

Miss Monroe was scheduled to arrive at nearby Champaign (Ill.) airport this afternoon.

Bement Police Chief C. W. Jones said he plans to handle the crowd—the biggest in the village's history—with 25 volunteers, a motorcycle and three policemen on horseback.

"We intend to close our centennial with a bang," he said.

They are so powerful and masterful. She said she sleeps with a picture of Lincoln above her bed, "both in her Manhattan apartment and in Hollywood."

"And now I want to commune with Lincoln and the arts."

WEEKS ADVISORY COUNCIL RECORDS SUBVENED BY HOUSE GROUP

Director Says He Will Appear but Declines to Say Whether He Will Take Papers Before Celler Unit.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Walter White, executive director of the Business Advisory Council of the Department of Commerce said today he will be at a House hearing Wednesday, but he declined to say whether he would have any records with him.

"No comment," he told a reporter who asked about the records.

He said he had been subpoenaed to appear with the records of the council.

The Commerce department refused yesterday to release them to the House Judiciary subcommittee, which is digging into the activities of "WOCs"—businessmen who serve "without compensation" for the Government.

The department's counsel said the request was "illegal."

Representative Emanuel Celler (Dem.), New York, chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee making the inquiry, shut back with the subpoena.

200 executives in Council. The Business Advisory Council includes 200 executives of the country's largest corporations. A Commerce Department representative said the BAC reports directly to Secretary of Commerce, C. Douglas.

The department's position was set forth by Philip A. Ray, general counsel, who said in a statement:

"We cannot permit any individual to conduct a fishing expedition among the private papers of the department exposing to possible misrepresentation, misrepresentation and hit-and-run smears the confidential counsel of the executive branch."

Ray said that to give Celler a "blanket search warrant" would be to expose material classified for security reasons, confidential statistical data on business, and views expressed by business men "on the pledged word of privacy."

Celler contended the executive branch has no legal power to prevent Congress from inquiring into council affairs.

On the refusal to disclose records, he said "we must necessarily question whether this stems from a desire to cover up and to shroud the activities of the BAC with secrecy."

Says Weeks Is Mistaken. Celler contended that Secretary Weeks is wrong when he contends BAC is part of the Department of Commerce and hence "privileged and immune from congressional inquiry."

The council assesses dues on its members, the Congressman said, enjoys tax exemption and holds meetings at such luxurious resorts as Sea Island, Ga., and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

"As far as our previous checks revealed, the BAC is not unlike a private club," Celler went on. "It is made up mainly of executives of so-called blue-chip organizations."

A Commerce Department representative said BAC advises Weeks on national business affairs, reporting directly to him.

BAC has been advising Secretary of Commerce on a confidential basis since 1939 when it was organized by the then Secretary Daniel Roper to help the Government frame anti-depression policies.

It meets several times a year in Washington or elsewhere, and reporters are barred from its sessions. This secrecy has prevailed under the Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower Administrations.

married another man in the belief he was dead.

The Redding (Calif.) flyer planned to try again during the day to telephone his wife at Soda Springs, Calif., to discuss their tangled marital affairs. But Mrs. Schmidt had left Soda Springs in a trailer with her second husband, Alford Fine.

The Air Force had shielded Schmidt from the news but he learned of his difficulties when he picked up a Manila newspaper at Clark Air Force Base in Manila, Friday.

An Air Force officer who accompanied Schmidt and the 10 other newly released flyers to Tokyo said Schmidt was "obviously upset, but he wasn't hysterical" after learning of the situation.

"He is still all for the girl and doesn't want to give her up," the spokesman said, and he is anxious to see his young son for the first time.

which has jurisdiction over the Academy, said that the Office of Naval Intelligence had informed him that Landy would be continued as a reserve midshipman for six months, although he was graduated, and that he could reply for a commission during the period.

The maritime administrator said the academy and his office would do everything in their power to right a wrong, if there is a wrong. He said the Navy has the privilege of accepting or rejecting any candidates it wishes for commissions, without giving reasons to his office, as was done in Landy's case.

Landy said he had taken "several loyalty oaths" before and since entering the Academy in 1951, after graduating from the Freehold (N.J.) High School. A native of Freehold, it was in that city that his mother attended Communist meetings, he said.

He had never been questioned about his mother's activities before Tuesday, when he was summoned to the headquarters of the Third Naval District in New York City.

There, he said, he was informed about his mother's record and that it could come under a clause barring commissions to those who have continued associations with Communists.

Was Told Not to Worry. He was told, also, he said, that the Navy is lenient about cases such as his. He said he was told to go back to the Academy and not to worry about getting his commission. The notice that it would not be granted reached him yesterday.

Officials of the Academy said that all students are screened before and during the four-year training by the Navy and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In his second year at the Academy, Landy was assigned to the "Old Colony Mariner," one of the nation's new high-speed freighters about which there is still some classified information. He sailed on several voyages as a cadet while the ship was carrying ammunition to Europe.

In his studies of naval science and other subjects at the Academy, however, officials said there was no classified information.

Landy is scheduled to sail tomorrow as an able seaman aboard the Sun Oil Co. tanker Texas Sun, from New York to a Gulf port. After a month on this vessel he is slated to enter Yale Law School on a scholarship he has won.

Says He Will Reapply. Landy said he was especially eager to receive the commission in the Naval Reserve because he hoped to practice law in the Navy after he enters the bar. He said he will reapply for his commission and hopes the misunderstanding will be cleared up.

His failure to receive a Naval Reserve commission will not jeopardize his future in the American Merchant Marine. He still received his license as a third mate and his degree as a bachelor of science. If he continued as a mariner he would be eligible to serve on any American ship.

By the Associated Press. In Landy's class, only two other graduates were denied Navy Reserve commissions—both because they failed physical examinations.

The Navy, not questioning Landy's loyalty, said the midshipman was "extremely close to his mother and she has been a Communist."

Mrs. Landy said her son induced her to quit the Communist party in 1947 or 1948 after she had been a member 10 years.

She added: "He sort of gave me an ultimatum that I quit or he would leave home. He reformed me and yet he is suffering from it. I'd rather go to jail than have him suffer."

Landy's father died when he was a baby.

Recalls Meetings at Home. Landy, one of three brothers, recalled one or two meetings of Communist party members at his home. He added: "My mother was working for Russian relief and her sympathies were all along that line. We'd have some arguments about it because I did not like the people she parted with."

The Navy, close-mouthed about the case, has conceded it should have notified Landy of his status weeks ago instead of waiting until almost the eve of his graduation.

EISENHOWER TAKES HOMEWORK TO FARM

He Plans to Act on All Bills Before Return to Washington Friday.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Aug. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower took his homework to the farm. He came here yesterday afternoon to a new house and white horse in a new blue and white Air Force plane bought for his trip.

Mrs. Eisenhower had arrived by automobile earlier in the day and was waiting at their farm home near Gettysburg.

The presidential homework was several hundred bills passed by the Congress that ended its 1955 session this week. Aides said Mr. Eisenhower plans to act on all of them before he returns to Washington for a Cabinet meeting next Friday.

His trip here was his first in the new two-engine plane which the Air Force said cost just under $75,000. It is slightly modified from another light plane which the President had used for four short hops in June and July. The Air Force said it had leased the older model from the makers, the Aero Design & Engineering Co. of Bethany, Okla., for $40 a flight hour and now had turned it back to the company.

The new plane is from the same company. Its passenger cabin is about 10 inches longer. Inside it is one revolving hassock chair and several reclining chairs.

The Air Force said it is purchasing 15 similar planes to fly government officials on comparatively short trips.

For longer trips, the President uses a four-engine Super Constellation, the Columbine III.

He probably will go in to the summer white house at Denver after his return to Washington. He plans to go to Colorado Aug. 14 or 15.

U.S. SAYS FROST IN BRAZIL WON'T CUT COFFEE SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Department of Agriculture said yesterday that there will be no shortage of coffee as the result of recent frost damage to coffee trees in parts of Brazil.

Its announcement was designed to set at rest any fears that supplies might become tight and prices advance as they did in 1953 when the crop was hurt by cold weather. Some distributors in this country have increased prices in recent days in anticipation of shortages.

Simon Van Munster, of the Aviolande Aircraft Factory, said the combined research efforts of all nations would be needed to get the first space ship to the moon. Therefore, he said, anything of value found there should be divided "among the world's people."

Van Munster said co-operation on research and a share-the-wealth plan conceivably could be worked out through the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural organization.

Van Munster is here for the sixth annual meeting of the International Astronautical Federation. He said in an interview with the I.A.F. already has made contact with UNESCO concerning a program of world co-operation on research. He said it might be possible to reach the moon by 1980.

Kraft Ehrliche, an aeronautical engineer for the Convair Aircraft Co. of San Diego, Calif., said in an interview: "It appears reasonable" to land a manned vehicle on the moon some time "during the 1960s."

He said the lunar flight conceivably could be made with present-day chemical rocket propulsion but that there is a need for working out "new types of propulsion systems," especially for any ventures beyond the moon.

URGES LISTING ROSENBERG UNIT AS SUBVERSIVE

Walter Says He'll Ask Attorney General to Act to Hamper Group's Officers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Representative Francis E. Walter (Dem.), Pennsylvania, said today he would ask Attorney General Herbert Brownell to list as subversive the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenbergs Case.

Such a listing would not affect the now-disbanded organization, but would hinder Government employment of those connected with it.

Walter spoke to reporters after his House Un-American Activities Committee ended four days of hearings on the Communists' role in the campaign to save the lives of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

Executed as Spies. The Rosenbergs were executed as atomic spies in June 1953, after a long legal battle that attracted international attention. The House committee questioned 21 witnesses about Communist activity in behalf of the Rosenbergs. Four former Federal Bureau of Investigation undercover men told of Red drives for the convicted pair in Boston, eastern Pennsylvania, Detroit and Chicago through Communist Party branches, committees or otherwise.

The national committee, with headquarters in New York City, went out of business in the fall of 1953.

Walter said the hearings showed the Communist role in the Rosenberg case as a vehicle for Red propaganda and to raise funds for their own gain—not that of the Rosenbergs.

Ph.D. degree from Harvard. He was asked whether he was a Communist, testified yesterday it was all a mistake to consider him active "president" of the Rosenberg committee.

A bespectacled, precise-talking little man, Harap said he had helped sign a bank account application for the committee in 1952 but "I never acted as president," he never even considered himself as president.

President's Space. Then why did he sign in the space marked "president," Harap asked. "That," said Harap, puffing on a pipe, "was the only blank that was vacant and not signed by somebody else."

Committee investigators identified Harap as managing editor of Jewish Life, a magazine published in New York. Harap himself would not say.

Harap, like 16 other witnesses, invoked the Fifth amendment's guarantee against forced self-incrimination when asked about Communist connections.

Among them were the two principal officers questioned from the national committee: David Aliman, former executive secretary, and his wife Emily, longtime treasurer. They reside at Englewood, N.J.

The President issued executive orders yesterday authorizing the House committee to examine federal income and other tax returns which may assist it in investigating subversive activities and propaganda.

In action taken in response to a request from Walter, Tax information thus obtained by the committee must be regarded as confidential, but the committee may report to the House information pertinent to the investigation in which the data is used.

11 FREED AIRMEN FOUND TO BE IN GOOD CONDITION

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (AP)—Eleven United States airmen released by Communist China Thursday were "all completely O.K. physically," an Air Force medical source said after the flyers were examined by doctors today.

"It's amazing to see these men smiling after what they have been through. They are in amazing condition," the source said. The optimistic report covered internal physical condition, not visible injuries such as a lost toe and crippled fingers suffered by Maj. William H. Baumer of Lewisburg, Pa. Baumer's left leg was wounded when the flyers' B-29 was shot down. Later he suffered frost bite.

The airmen, dressed in military hospital gowns, were confined as patients in the huge air-conditioned hospital at nearby Far East Air Materiel Command Base.

Air policemen surrounded their ward to keep outsiders from talking to them.

It was learned American intelligence officials began questioning the flyers today about what they saw in 32 months inside Red China.

PAKISTAN'S RULER IS ILL; GEN. MIRZA TAKES OVER DUTIES

KARACHI, Aug. 6 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza, a British-trained general and veteran of the Northwest Frontier wars, was appointed acting governor-general of Pakistan yesterday after Governor-General Ghulam Mohammad was ordered by his doctors to give up power immediately and return to his home in India.

Mirza, 56 years old, was minister of the interior in the Pakistan central government and has been known as a successful administrator. His appointment came after the cabinet examined a medical report on Mohammad. The latter is leaving for treatment at Rawalpindi, about 800 miles north of Karachi.

Mohammad has been in poor health since he took office in 1951 after the assassination of Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan. He had a severe attack of paralysis that left him unable to speak distinctly. He visited the United States and Europe for treatment, but reports say his condition has continued serious.

PEIPING QUOTES EISENHOWER ON FORMOSA, CHINA

TOKYO, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Peiping radio did the unusual thing yesterday of broadcasting a report on the broadening of the press conference of President Eisenhower dealing with Red China and Formosa.

It even included the Eisenhower quotation: "We count the Nationalists on Formosa as our own people."

Peiping broadcasts never refer to Chiang Kai-shek's followers as "Nationalists." They prefer such terms as pirates, brigands or the milder clique.

Peiping's broadcast included the press conference angles that Formosa's future will not be discussed by the United States at any conference without the Nationalists represented; also "there can be no change in United States policy on recognition of Communist China under existing circumstances."

KENTUCKIANS VOTE AFTER HOT DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6 (AP)—Kentucky chooses its candidates for Governor today after one of its hottest Democratic primaries.

General interest and factional bitterness may attract 500,000 Democrats to the polls. The voting was heavy. No disorders were reported. A much lighter turnout, possibly not more than 100,000, is expected for the Republican primary.

Former Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, once the baseball commissioner, is attempting a political comeback in the Democratic primary. Some observers rated his comeback try a tossup with Judge Bert T. Combs, choice of Gov. Lawrence Wetherby and the State's two United States Senators—Alben W. Barkley and Earle C. Clements. Also in the Democratic contest is Jesse N. Cecil, unsuccessful in previous tries for the office.

Seeking the G.O.P. nomination is former United States District Attorney Edwin R. Denney and James L. Clay, also an attorney.

30 REPORTED ARRESTED AS REBELS IN RED CHINA

LONDON, Aug. 6 (UP)—A New Delhi broadcast by the Indian information service monitored in London quoted the New China News agency as saying 30 persons have been arrested in Wuhan on charges of attempting to assassinate Chinese Government officials.

The arrested men were described in the broadcast as "counter-revolutionaries." They also were accused of subversive rumor-mongering, attempted robbery of the Chinese People's Bank and murder of a member of the liberation army.

Wuhan is the tri-city area on the Yangtze around Hankow.

POLICE WITHOUT LEAD ON MISSING KANSAS CITY WIFE

Wealthy Husband Fears She's Dead — Bloody Garments in Trunk of Her Abandoned Auto.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 6 (AP)—A widespread search for a wealthy automobile dealer's wife, feared kidnapped and killed, failed to turn up any productive leads today.

The blood-spattered clothing and car of Mrs. Wilma Allen, 34 years old, mother of two, were the only clues.

Mrs. Allen, who always cautioned her two young sons to scream if any strange persons attempted to enter their motor car, was last seen early Thursday afternoon on a shopping trip.

Her husband, president of one of Kansas City's larger Chevrolet agencies, said, "If anybody—a stranger—tried to force entry into her car, I'm sure she would have screamed and put up a severe struggle."

River Bottoms Searched. (The United Press said a police search was made today of the Missouri river bottoms near Sibley, 18 miles northeast of Kansas City. Lee Gee, who lives near the river, had reported he saw a car answering the description of one driven Thursday by Mrs. Allen. Gee told officers he saw a man and a woman in blue and white clothing, which went past his home and near a river levee.

Tire tread marks and footprints were found near the river bank. Detectives said the tire tread of Mrs. Allen's automobile was compared with tire tracks on the river bank. Apparently the tire clue led nowhere.

(Gee said he saw the car at 2 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Allen was last seen about 12:45 p.m. that day.)

Not Ganson Plot, Husband Says. Mrs. Allen told friends he had all the time he could spend seeing his wife alive and does not believe she is a victim of a kidnap plot for ransom.

Maj. Eugene Pond, chief of detectives, said a report that two men were seen driving a woman across a road at a lake where the Allens maintain a summer home was discounted as probably not having any bearing on the case.

Pond said that judging from the condition of Mrs. Allen's bloodstained clothing, a blouse, skirt and black lace panties, found stuffed in the trunk of her abandoned car, the garments had not been dragged on the ground. (The United Press said police think Mrs. Allen may have been criminally assaulted.)

Her car was found early yesterday in a parking area near the Union Station here. Pond said blood in and on the car was believed about three to six hours old.

There were about 68 miles registered on the speedometer of the car that cannot be accounted for by Allen or others in the family.

Visited Hair Dresser. Mrs. Allen's children told officers when their mother drove away Thursday to keep an 11 a.m. appointment with a hairdresser the top on her convertible was down. When found the top was up and the rear flap closed.

The United Press said J. David Connell, 33, told police he had been fixing Mrs. Allen's hair for nine years and was "dickering" for a house near the Allen's country home on nearby Lake Lotawana.

Robert Short, a hairdresser in the shop also reported seeing Mrs. Allen. But, he said, he went to a movie shortly before she departed after getting her hair fixed.

Police said missing articles of Mrs. Allen's clothing include a handbag, a small black and white purse, a watch, a straw pocketbook she carried. She was believed to be carrying about $25 at the time of her disappearance.

Mrs. Frank E. Cooks, Tulsa, Okla., mother of Mrs. Allen, described her daughter and Allen as being "desperately in love, just like they were still on their honeymoon."

Missing HAWAIIAN GIRL STEALS RIDE TO U.S. ON DESTROYER

Missing HAWAIIAN GIRL STEALS RIDE TO U.S. ON DESTROYER

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (AP)—A navy spokesman said last night a 16-year-old Hawaiian girl stowed away aboard the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan in Honolulu, four days ago to get a free ride to the United States.

The girl, Jocelyn Pilapili, got aboard the ship during an open house function at the Hawaiian port. She was discovered in a compartment housing the destroyer's radio room.

At Hilo, Hawaii, police said the girl left a note for her parents in Papaioa saying: "Folks, I can't stay here any longer so I'm going away with Bill. So don't worry."

But the Canadian Navy spokesman said: "As far as we know no member of the crew of the Athabaskan assisted the girl to conceal herself aboard the ship. A message received yesterday from the destroyer indicated she had a whim to get to the United States mainland."

He said she was placed in "suitable accommodations" and will be turned over to United States officials at Long Beach, where the ship is due tomorrow.

AIR CONDITIONING WORKERS WALK OUT; IT'S TOO HOT

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6 (AP)—Employees of a firm that makes air conditioning equipment are off the job today. It's too hot.

They say they aren't going back until the company installs electric fans in the shop, or until the weather cools off.

The night shift at Marley Co. walked out Wednesday. Neither it nor the day shift has been back since.

E. C. Mein, company vice president, is due here today with representatives of the AFL Ironworkers Union.

Company officers agreed the walkout didn't constitute a strike. It's just a cooling work stoppage.

"The only issue to be settled," added one, "is electric fans in the shop, or cooler weather."

Manager Roger Fortin said the company has no plans for installing an air-conditioning system in the plant.

In any event, everyone is in favor of cooler weather.

RESERVATION NOT HONORED, MEXICO HOTEL IS FINED

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 6 (AP)—A Mexico City hotel was fined 5000 pesos ($400) today for failing to honor a reservation made in advance by a Florida woman.

Under law a hotel can be fined for ignoring reservations, but charges are rarely brought. Yesterday, the Tourist Bureau decided to take action in the wake of numerous complaints.

Mrs. Patricia Mercer and daughter of Miami, Fla., had made reservations at the Ontario Hotel. When they arrived the hotel said it was crowded and could not give them a room.

The Tourist Bureau was notified and the hotel was fined. Mexico City hotels are crowded with what officials call the greatest influx of tourists in history.

PILOT CREDITED WITH SAVING 68 IN LANDING CRASH

Airliner Narrowly Misses Auto as It Plunges Through Fence Into Chicago Street.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6 (AP)—Skillful piloting was credited with saving the lives of 68 persons in a Northwest Airlines plane accident late yesterday.

The pilot, Capt. George A. Stone of Minneapolis, landed his four-engine Stratocruiser on Midway airport's Northwest runway and noticed suddenly his propellers would not reverse.

"When I saw the rigid arrow markers, landing lights and gasoline stations at the corner of the field," Stone told a reporter, "I applied full left rudder."

Goes Through Fence. The plane veered from the runway, drove through a steel wire fence which served to partly stop it and rolled into the middle of a street, narrowly missing an automobile.

The 62 passengers and crew of six were evacuated quickly, some through emergency chutes extending from the plane. There was no fire, but the props threw great chunks of the fence in all directions. One piercing the left side of the plane just behind the cockpit.

Copilot Ralph Gray of Minneapolis credited Stone's actions with averting a possible tragedy.

"He used up all the runway he could afford," Gray said, "and then turned us away from real trouble." Safety officials said a contributing factor was failure of the mechanism which reverses propellers to help slow the speed of the plane after landing.

The brakes frantically, but their power was insufficient to halt the big plane.

Other crew members were stewards Helen Kennedy and Louise Holden, both of Minneapolis.

Near Previous Crash. The plane, on way from Minneapolis to Chicago, came to rest less than 100 yards from the spot where a Braniff airliner crashed July 17, killing 22 persons.

It was a nerve-wracking experience for five persons in the automobile driven by George Meyers of Youngstown, O., which was narrowly missed by the plane. Two women from his car were taken to a hospital and treated for shock.

Meyers, a spot welder, was pale and shaken from the experience when he talked to a reporter. He said the huge plane bearing down on him through the high grass was frightening.

"All I could think of was to slam on the brakes," he said. The plane came to rest about 20 feet in front of his bumper.

2 Jet Pilots Unhurt in Collision But Rocket Piece Hits Boy. WILMINGTON, O., Aug. 6 (AP)—Two jet pilots escaped injury yesterday when their F-86s collided while practicing instrument flying 20,000 feet up, but an 18-year-old farm youth was reported injured by a fragment of exploding rocket when one of the jets crashed and burned.

Officials at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, where the pilots were stationed, said Lt. John Goodwill, 26, of Starkweather, N.D., bailed out in his ejector seat, then went to a telephone to call his base. A helicopter was sent to pick him up.

The other pilot, Lt. Col. Howard Askelson of Pleasant Ridge, Mich., guided his damaged craft

CITY TO APPEAL RULING IT MUST ENFORCE RAT LAW IN ALL SECTIONS

Judge Directs Health Chief to Show Compliance Within 90 Days, Orders Revolving Fund Restored.

A ruling by Circuit Judge Ivan Lee Holt Jr., that Health Commissioner J. Earl Smith must enforce the rat-control ordinance in all sections of the city, including slums and blighted areas, will be appealed, the City Counselor's office announced today.

Dr. Smith has contended that owners of buildings in areas scheduled to be razed for slum clearance projects should not be compelled to spend money for rat stoppage.

However, Judge Holt ruled yesterday, in a suit filed in behalf of two members of Local 688, AFL Teamsters' Union, that Dr. Smith had to enforce the ordinance, specifically sections 2, 4, 5 and 7, in all areas of the city.

He directed the health commissioner to show compliance with the court's ruling within 90 days following the issuance of a peremptory writ of mandamus to be issued on the basis of the ruling.

Judge Holt also held that Comptroller Milton Carpenter should restore to a recent control revolving fund the sum of money which reverted to local revenue in June 1932. He gave Carpenter 30 days in which to comply with the writ to be issued.

The revolving fund, once repealed by ordinance and then reinstated, consists of $40,000 to be used by the city for rat-stopping buildings when the owners fail to take required action. The owners are billed for the costs, and the money is repaid to the revolving fund.

The suit filed in behalf of the Teamsters' union was directed against Dr. Smith, Carpenter and Building Commissioner Albert H. Baum, alleging they had failed to force the rat control and minimum housing ordinances.

Judge Holt dismissed the allegations against Baum, who was charged in the suit with failing to uphold minimum housing standards relating to elimination of outside toilets.

A bill extending the deadline for eliminating outside toilets for one year was passed by the Board of Aldermen last year. The three officials, the union's petition contended, are required to carry out provisions of the two ordinances without regard for their personal judgment or opinion on the "propriety or impropriety of the acts to be performed."

Dr. Smith "arbitrarily and capriciously refused to enforce" provisions of the rat control ordinance in slum areas, the petition said.

Sections of the rat-control ordinance which Judge Holt ruled specifically must enforce relate to the responsibility of property owners to keep their structures rat-proofed and to duties of the health commissioner to make periodic inspections for this purpose.

The city counselor's office said it would file a motion for a new trial in respect to the judge's ruling regarding Dr. Smith and Carpenter. If that motion is denied, then an appeal will be taken, it was said.

When the suit was filed March 1, Harold J. Lyons, secretary-treasurer of the local union, it represented an "effort on the part of the union to get something done about serious health conditions in the city" and was part of Local 688's "community action program."

2 KILLED, 8 INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

Hazelwood Baby, Kansas City Man Lose Lives Near Monroe City, Mo.

Mary Teresa Quinn, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Quinn of Hazelwood, St. Louis county, and a man from Kansas City were killed today in a collision of an automobile and a station wagon on Highway 36 on the western edge of Monroe City, Mo. Eight other persons were injured.

The dead man was identified as David Miller, driver of the automobile.

The injured include Mr. and Mrs. Quinn, five other Quinn children, Willis Jr., 14; Donald, 10; Arthur, 6; Elizabeth, 3, and Gerald, 2, and Mrs. Carolyn Miller, wife of the dead man. All were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Hannibal, Mo.

State troopers reported that the Miller automobile was attempting to pass a tractor-trailer going east, swerved sideways as the brakes were applied and collided with the Quinn station wagon approaching from the other direction.

The truck then smashed into the wreckage of the Miller automobile.

Mrs. Quinn's father, Victor Riedy, 8410 Reilly street, said the Quinns were en route to visit relatives in the Monroe City area.

Miss Patricia Myers, 6384 Glenmore avenue, Pine Lawn, suffered head injuries and facial lacerations last night when the automobile in which she was riding struck a machine which was double-parked in the 3700 block of Washington avenue. She was taken to City Hospital.

Baptiste Bonzani Jr., 2315 Kiellin avenue, Pine Lawn, told police he did not see the machine in time to avoid hitting it. Mr. Myers, 16 years old, is a clerk.

A Charles, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Dalton, 3914 North Eleventh street, suffered serious head injuries yesterday when struck by a truck in front of his home. The truck driver, Karl M. Nattier of Patoka, Ill., told police the boy ran from behind a northbound bus directly in front of his truck. Nattier was booked suspected of careless driving.

CLAYTON RESIDENTS TO ASK STATE TO EASE TAX INCREASE

A group of Clayton residents whose homes are in the commercially-zoned area of the city decided at a meeting last night to appeal to the State Tax Commission for relief from increased property tax assessments which they believe excessive.

The St. Louis county Board of Equalization recently refused to distinguish between revenue-producing property and non-revenue producing property in making reassessments ordered by the State Tax Commission. Some of the home-owners in the area would be forced to pay as much as $100 a month in taxes, a spokesman for the group said.

Gideon Schiller, attorney, was directed to appeal to the state tax body for relief. Members of the group feel the action of the county taxing authorities is discriminatory.

ATTACKS BY FARM ANIMALS FATAL TO TWO FRENCHMEN

PARIS, Aug. 6 (AP)—Farmer Yves Keromen of Lanodec was bitten to death by his horse as he unharnessed it after the day's work. The animal attacked him by the throat and he bled to death before help arrived.

Adolphe Groux, mayor of the village of Bardou, was attacked and gored by his bull. He died soon afterwards.

CHARGED WITH 5-CENT THEFT

A warrant charging Edwin Hoffman, an unemployed, 4600 block of Pope avenue, with stealing 5 cents from a news vendor's stand at Pope and West Florissant avenue was issued today by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Sidney Faber.

Record-Breaking Boat Men Tell Of Difficulties During River Race

Three Compare Blisters, Swap Anecdotes on New Orleans to St. Louis Run With Previous Racers.

After 53 grueling, sleepless hours spent combating the waves of the Mississippi river, the New Orleans-to-St. Louis grind sat around at the Yacht Club here yesterday for more than an hour comparing their blisters and swapping tips and anecdotes with previous record holders.

The new champions, clocked by three timers in 52 hours and 53 minutes, are Raymond Loetscher, his brother Charles and Max Zeiner, all of Little Rock, Ark. Their boat zoomed under Eads bridge at 11 a.m.

Raymond staggered from the three-engineered craft at the foot of Pine street, his legs rubbery from fatigue. Though a hammock was part of the gear stowed, no one used it during the trip.

"I know just how you feel," said Lee Sawyer, holder of the old record, 56 hours and 56 minutes. A week ago he set a new record for the St. Louis-to-Kansas City run up the Missouri river.

Worst obstacle the Little Rock men encountered was a sand bar that trapped them for four hours Thursday night at Kinney Point, near Ste. Genevieve. Telling of being "dry-docked all at once," Raymond Loetscher held up his cut and blistered hands.

"That's from clawing at that sand to get us free again," he said. "We were lucky the current there was so swift. All we had to do was stir up the sand a bit and let the river carry it away. The shovel we carried turned out to be of little use."

"We were badlacking after dark last night with all engines racing when we hit a log that knocked us four feet out of the water. Another time we were delayed because we arrived at a refueling point an hour ahead of our gasoline supply. We ended up by buying 15 gallons of gas from a man drilling a well."

"Funnier delay was when harbor police near Arkansas City flagged us down for speed."

NEW 400-POUND FIRE PLUG STOLEN ON MORGANFORD

Police yesterday were on the lookout for a stolen fire plug—brand new and weighing 400 pounds. Howard Ellis, city water department foreman, discovered the theft when he arrived with a crew late Thursday to install the plug in the 7800 block of Morganford road.

The plug had been deposited on the ground earlier in the week for installation as part of a program made necessary by the widening of Morganford road. Water division engineers said it was worth $150.

It was the first time, at least to his knowledge, that a thief had made off with an entire fire plug here. Water Commissioner Thomas J. Skinner said.

DRIVER INJURED IN FIGHT AFTER COLLISION IN ALLEY

Richard Lee Kellett, steam-fitter of 4421 Farlin avenue, was in serious condition today in DePaul Hospital, with lacerations of the face and chest suffered last night in a street fight with Albert Gardner, machinist of the 4900 block of Northland avenue, police reported.

Kellett, with a group of friends in his automobile pulled into an alley in the 2600 block of North Kingshighway to go into a tavern to get another party with them. As Kellett stopped his machine, police were told, Gardner pulled into the alley in his car and shouted for Kellett to move so Gardner could get through.

As Kellett released the brake, his machine drifted back into Gardner's car. With that, Gardner, a Negro, attacked Kellett with a wrench and a knife, police were told. One of Kellett's friends, William Mannion, 4465 Lexington avenue, came to Kellett's assistance and Gardner fled. All were booked suspected of assault to do great bodily harm and peace disturbance.

FOUR WORKHOUSE PRISONERS FLEE; JAIL BREAK FAILS

Bar Sawed in Successful Escape—Discovery of Cut Ventilator Blocks Other.

Four young prisoners who escaped from the Workhouse yesterday by sawing through a bar were sought by police today. Meanwhile, at City Jail, Warden Peter Nicholas frustrated nearly-complete escape plans of a prisoner who had cut an opening in a roof ventilator.

Missing from the Workhouse were Thomas D. Carver of Chicago; Robert Lee Bridges, of the 1200 block of Madison street; Ralph Leroy Voegtlin, 2100 block of South Seventh street, and Allen A. Andrews of Vance road, Valley Park.

Workhouse Warden Harold E. Baynes reported the four young men apparently went through a window of a small storeroom on a balcony of the power plant engine room. They were able to drop 10 feet to a cinder road along the east wall and then climb a wire fence to Meramec street.

Where Four Were Working. Carver and Bridges were assigned to duty in the power plant, working under supervision of city stationary engineers. Andrews worked in the paint shop nearby and Voegtlin in the dining room, about 100 feet away.

Baynes said the youths gained entrance to the storeroom by a key, disappearance of which had been discovered by an engineer who failed, however, to notify the warden's office at once. The prisoners, apparently using a hacksaw obtained in the power plant, were able to work their way out of the bar with little being disturbed.

Baynes reported the escape of Carver, Bridges and Voegtlin to police at 5:40 p.m. Andrews was found missing after a bed check at 7:30 p.m. and Baynes said he presumably escaped with the others.

Terms They Were Serving. Carver, who last month admitted committing a number of south St. Louis burglaries, was serving two one-year terms for larceny. Bridges was serving 60 days for operating a motor vehicle without a state driver's license and was due for release Nov. 27.

Voegtlin was serving one year for operation of an automobile without the owner's consent and Andrews had been in jail for one year for larceny of a dwelling and automobile operation without the owner's consent.

He was due for release next Dec. 27. Carver, Voegtlin and Andrews had been in jail but their paroles had been revoked.

At the jail, Nicholas reported Raymond Schermerhorn of Sioux Falls, S.D., awaiting trial for burglary, admitted cutting holes in a sheet metal roof to escape, but planned to escape tonight by climbing to the roof through the ventilator and lowering himself by a 75-foot heavy duty electric cord.

Investigated Rumors. Nicholas said he had heard rumors "something unusual" on the sixth floor and had been investigating quietly. Thursday night he found the openings in the ventilator, which leads from a small fumigating room to the roof.

Yesterday morning, watching through a small opening in a wall of the sixth-floor chapel, he saw Schermerhorn secreting a chisel under a pile of clothing. Schermerhorn, an ex-convict, has been employed on clothing repair in a sixth-floor work room.

Nicholas recovered the chisel after Schermerhorn was in his cell and later in the day the prisoner, confronted with the evidence, readily admitted his plan. He wanted the three other prisoners as being in the escape plot, but all denied participation.

HELD AS KILLER, FATHER SERVED IN SCOTLAND YARD

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—The schoolmaster son of Scotland Yard's late chief detective superintendent was charged today with murdering his wife and baby daughter.

Frederick James Chapman, about 40 years old, was formally booked for a court hearing after long questioning. His father, chief of Scotland Yard's murder squad, died two weeks ago.

Scotland Yard said Chapman, who teaches at a school in Orpington, appeared last night at a police station in Brighton, 50 miles south of London. His story led police to break into the Chapman's new white bungalow at Orpington, where the bodies of Mrs. Irene Chapman, 30, and her year-old daughter, Irene, were found. They had been beaten to death.

$600 STOLEN FROM OFFICE IN REAR OF RESTAURANT

A small safe and a desk drawer containing a total of about $600 were stolen yesterday from an office in the rear of a Dutch Maid Grill, 4900 Laclede avenue, it was reported to police.

Jerald Carlin, the manager, said entry to the office had been gained apparently by use of a skeleton or duplicate key. The restaurant was open at the time.

Canadian Bank Hikes Interest. OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Bank of Canada announced last night the bank rate has been increased to 2 from 1½ per cent. The bank rate is the amount of interest charged by the central bank for loans to chartered banks.

LIQUOR SELLER BOUND, ROBBED; $2400 STOLEN

Marcellus J. Ell, operator of a package liquor store on St. Charles road, east of the Missouri river bridge, St. Louis county, was robbed of $2400 yesterday by a man armed with an automatic pistol, he told county police.

Ell said the man first came into the store and ordered a soft drink. About 10 minutes later, the robber returned, saying he had left a cigarette lighter in the store.

When Ell began searching for the lighter, the man produced the pistol and forced Ell to lock the front door and lower the blinds. He then ordered Ell to hand over the money from the cash register and a cash box which contained extra funds to be used for cashing paychecks for customers. The robber stuffed the money into a brown paper bag.

Ties Victim's Arms. The robber ordered Ell into a back room and forced him to bind his own legs together with adhesive tape. He then tied Ell's arms behind him with rope and walked out the front door of the store. Ell managed to free himself after about five minutes and called police.

Police set up roadblocks in the area in an effort to catch the robber, who was described as about six feet, four inches tall. Carney Jones, attendant at a filling station at 2743 Gravois avenue, was robbed of $48 early today by a man, armed with a revolver, who came up to him from a lot at the rear of the station. Jones reported to police.

$200 Stolen From Home. Vincent Littleken, 4983 Lindenwood avenue, reported the theft of $200 from his home yesterday to police. Entrance to the home was gained through an insecure window and the house was ransacked, police reported.

Two men were arrested by police early today inside the office of the Motor Freight Corp., 1318 North Eighteenth street. They told police they were Frank Shannon, living in the 1000 block of North Tenth street, and Arlee Hayes, 1700 block of the Kentucky river.

The men, Negroes, were arrested by police investigating the burglar alarm which was sounding. A rear door had been broken open.

2 SISTERS DROWN AS AUTO PLUNGES IN KENTUCKY RIVER

WINCHESTER, Ky., Aug. 6 (AP)—Two little sisters drowned last night as the automobile their father was driving plunged into the Kentucky river.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paul of Lexington, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hise, former Ohioans now living in Lexington, swam to safety. Mrs. Paul with her 3-month-old daughter, Carol Ann.

The Richmond district state police quoted the driver as saying he was traveling downgrade on an unfamiliar road and applied his brakes but they did not hold. The report said weeds almost blocked a roadside sign reading "ferry ahead."

The swift current in the 14-foot water swept the infant from Mrs. Paul's arms, but Sterling Townsend, a resident of the Jackson's ferry area near here, plunged in and rescued the child.

Townsend said he might have saved Helen Louise Paul, 5, and her sister, Donna Marie, 3, had not the doors on the car been locked.

State policeman James McMullin said Paul apparently drove into the river in the belief the ferry was on his side of the street. The car traveled 40 feet into the river before rolling into deep water.

$254,000 FOR AIR RESERVE CENTER HERE IS APPROVED

A total of $254,000 for construction of a new Air Force Reserve Center building here was approved Thursday by President Eisenhower when he signed a $1,636,626,802 supplemental appropriations bill, it was reported yesterday.

Also provided in the bill was $14,759,000 for other Air Force and Army construction projects in Missouri including $347,000 for the Aeronautical Chart and Information Center, Second and Arsenal streets. The money will be used for modification of existing structures at the center, an Air Force official said.

The new reserve center will house ground training activities, now conducted in the old Federal Building, including will be communications equipment and other facilities for training reservists. A site for the proposed two-story building has not been selected.

STUDENT LOSES LIFE ON 3:30 A.M. SWIMMING PARTY

James Anthony Capra's Girl Companion Describes Death in Meramec.

James Anthony Capra, a law student at Washington University, drowned early today in the Meramec river across from Long Beach near Kirkwood. He was 26 years old and lived at 10146 Lookaway drive.

Capra had gone to the river about 3:30 a.m. with Earl J. Thuet, 3108 Rolla place; Miss Patricia Ruth Hancock, 3266 Frisco avenue, and Miss Rosalie Allison, 1117 Motard avenue.

Miss Allison, 18 years old, told the Post-Dispatch she, Thuet and Capra decided to swim to the opposite bank while Miss Hancock remained at Long Beach.

"I had almost reached the opposite bank when I saw Jim going up and down in the water with his arms outstretched," she said. "It was dark and I just thought he was kidding."

"I looked over my shoulder and said, 'Come on, Jim.' It wasn't until a little later that I realized he had disappeared." Capra was known as a good swimmer. Thuet attempted unsuccessfully to find him after his disappearance. The body was recovered at 10:40 a.m. in 25 feet of water.

A Korean war veteran, Capra lived with his mother, Mrs. Charles Kruckemeyer, and his stepfather. His father, August Capra, lives at 3804 Shenandoah avenue.

Mrs. Louise Sheppard, 2913 Lucas avenue, and Harvey Miles, 2928A Delmar boulevard, drowned in the Mississippi river near the foot of Franklin avenue early today, police reported.

Mrs. Sheppard and Miles, Negroes, had gone to the levee with another couple to cool off on their way home from a party, John Shelton, 2844 (rear) Lucas, one of the group, said. Mrs. Sheppard decided to dangle her feet in the water.

She walked out onto a track used to launch boats and fell into deep water. Miles went to her assistance and both were swept out into the current, where they sank. The bodies were not recovered.

2 MISSOURIANS, 2 KANSANS KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

LAMAR, Mo., Aug. 6 (AP)—Two Kansans and two Missourians are dead victims of an automobile collision near Lamar, Mo. A third Missourian, injured seriously, is in Memorial Hospital at Lamar.

Killed outright were Walter Sylvester Metz, 65 years old, and Richard Lee Sharp, 20, both of Leavenworth, Kan., and Mrs. Nadine Harper, 51, and Mrs. Fern Woods, 39, both of Butler, Mo.

The crash occurred yesterday afternoon a mile and a half south of Highway 71 and 100 near Lamar. The Highway Patrol said that a car driven by Page Harper, 55-year-old husband of the dead woman, suddenly swerved into the path of Metz's southbound car. Harper was injured.

The Missourians were on the way home from a business trip to Joplin.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Selling St. Louis

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 "Sell St. Louis to St. Louisans" is the crying need of our city. Most everybody from elsewhere is impressed with what this city has, but citizens here take it for granted.

It isn't the purpose of this letter to extol the many wonderful things to see and do—our beautiful Forest Park, the great Zoo, the grand Municipal Theater, the Jefferson Memorial with the famed Lindbergh trophies, the internationally renowned Shaw's Garden, the Jewel Box, Art Museum and so on. But its purpose is to urge a program that will inform our citizens of the civic, commercial, industrial, entertainment and cultural advantages so that they will be proud of their city and ready and willing to extol its virtues.

With the passage of the earnings tax and recent bond issue, a new spirit has been kindled that needs to be developed.

Another phase would be to have a giant rally of all St. Louisans who come in contact with the tourist, the visitor, those attending conventions and the like. At this rally movies of the sights of St. Louis would be shown with a few qualified speakers elaborating on how St. Louisans can put their best foot forward in selling "the city of a thousand sights."

The Visit St. Louis Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis could furnish the leadership and direction for such a rally and make every St. Louisan a salesman for St. Louis.

Now is the time to start.
 ANDY G. MUNGENTAST.

The Cooler Truth?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 Answering L. R. Fox's letter headed "The Cooler Truth," telling of the ready-mixed biscuits popping all over the floor when he opened his ice-box door in the present heat wave, I know I have his yarn topped. I believe every word he said.

For Liquor Price Control

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 I have read your recent editorial criticizing the liquor price control bill adopted at the last session of the Missouri Legislature.

Knowing of your desire to present the issues fairly, I am taking the liberty of calling your attention to the following:
 In a number of states, including New Jersey, New York and Connecticut, similar statutes have been in effect for some time and have operated effectively in the public interest. The validity of such laws has been upheld in a number of decisions recognizing the unique status of alcoholic beverages and the social problems incident thereto.

You also comment on the fact that fair trade laws were recently invalidated in Arkansas, Florida, Michigan and Nebraska. In all fairness, I think it should also be pointed out that in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Illinois there have been recent decisions upholding the validity of such statutes, and that last fall the Supreme Court of the United States in General Electric Co. v. Masters, Inc., 348 U.S. 892, refused to consider an appeal from the decision of the highest court of the State of New York sustaining the New York Trade Act.

Right Across the Board

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 The Board of Equalization in St. Louis county increased every home in the county a flat, unrestricted 60 per cent right across the board.

Regardless of the age of house, be it just assessed or 50 years old, the increase applies. What equalization of assessed valuation does this represent? It only increased the already existing inequities.

What may I ask, has the honorable St. Louis County Assessor been doing in his elected office? This question is being asked by many of us, and certainly our answers will be forthcoming at the next general election in St. Louis county.

Normandy, A. G. PECK.

Commercials at the Drive-In

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
 I have recently attended my first—and, unless things change a good deal—my last drive-in theater.

First I had to endure a very second-rate B picture; then I prepared to enjoy the feature I had come to see, and paid to see.

Instead, I got a solid 20 minutes of inane commercials—not only for future programs of the theater and its offerings of hot dogs, popcorn, etc., etc., ad nauseam, but for second-hand auto dealers and any other advertiser the theater could manage to persuade to buy time.

Finally, at 10:45, I was allowed to see the beginning of the feature. At 12:40 the picture was over; at 1 I got home, set the alarm clock for 6:45, and climbed into bed, too angry to sleep—angry for having been foolish enough to have paid for the privilege of looking at more commercials than TV would dare inflict on its viewers!

Paying for Performance

 August A. Busch should really save on his baseball payroll next spring. If the Cards keep on playing like the Pirates then he ought to pay them like the Pirates.

For a More Splendid City

Mayor Tucker's call to the Aldermen to meet Monday to authorize expenditure of $12,150,000 of the recently authorized $110,639,000 bond issue shows a determination to get on with these municipal improvements as quickly as possible.

In addition to 18 items of this program, all that are deemed feasible for the fiscal year ending in April, the Aldermen also will be asked to approve work on the Aloe-Memorial plaza link under the 1953 bond issue, and to sanction aid by various city departments to the Land Clearance and Development Authority in the fight on blight.

For this the Aldermen should need no more than the allotted week. Their votes will be little more than matters of form. Nothing new will call for discussion and debate. The Board of Public Service and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment already have sanctioned the measures.

Virtually everything was given public approval in the bond issue election. And it would not be wise, through delay, to run the risk that the authorized funds might produce less than expected.

When St. Louisans voted for the bonds they could see a changed city only with the mind's eye. They should be able to see it as soon as possible in brick and asphalt, trees and grass. There is nothing like flying dirt to keep alive the desire for improvement—unless it be the changed vistas which will replace that flying dirt.

The sight of old buildings between the plazas going down under the headache-balls has created widespread expectations. The fulfillment of these in various parts of the city, in one form or another, is sure to stimulate the conviction that St. Louis is not fated to remain drab. George Schwartz of London's Sunday Times had other American cities in mind when he wrote:

"I admit that many of the cities and towns call for blizzards but are getting it and something considerably better is going up in replacement. The pioneering age has restarted and the continent is wide open again."

New York, Chicago and Boston have no monopoly on tearing down what was built in haste, ugliness and inadequacy so that it may be replaced by expressways, parks and handsome buildings. St. Louis, too, has set itself to the task of making itself more beautiful and more livable. The sooner it produces examples of what really can be, the more impatient the community will become with what is intolerably below standard.

An early start on the bond issue projects will be a solid promise of a more splendid city extending north and south and west from the splendid symbol created for it, the great riverfront arch.

Backfire From Kentucky

There may be a meteorological explanation for the nationwide heat wave, but our own theory is that the country got caught in the backfire from Kentucky's Democratic primary campaign.

In Kentucky it was very warm for August. Indeed, it was also quite warm for "Happy" Chandler, the former Governor, former Senator and former baseball commissioner, who was seeking the Democratic nomination for Governor. The tone of the campaign can best be understood, perhaps, from a few words written in behalf of Chandler's leading opponent, Judge Bert T. Combs, by The Louisville Courier-Journal.

"He has not wept, shouted or resorted to hillbilly singing," said The Courier-Journal of Judge Combs, and added, severely: "The same cannot be said for his opponent."

In addition to weeping, shouting and resorting to hillbilly song, Happy Chandler has been heating up the bluegrass country with various degrees of fiction or inaccuracy, such as claiming credit for REA and social security, and alleging that the present state administration spent $20,000 for a rug in the governor's office (correct price: $2700).

But none of his little trifling with the truth created such a strong reaction as his effort to cozy up to Senator Alben W. Barkley. The Veep himself came storming back from Washington to kick Happy off his coat-tails, and to tell Kentucky Democrats that Chandler had deserted him in 1952 when Senator Barkley was a presidential candidate.

Yes, it has been warm in Kentucky. Judge Combs clearly could not compete with Happy for color. He was just a plain, unspectacular public servant pledged to progressive desegregation of the public schools, a merit system for state employees, improved parks and schools, and opposing any form of "right-to-work" legislation. Kentucky's choice would tell a good deal about Kentucky.

He Knew What to Do

Doctors at St. Louis County Hospital say that 14-year-old Walter Schultheis survived a severe electric shock because his father, Norman C. Schultheis, promptly administered artificial respiration at the scene of the accident.

Had Norman Schultheis not known how to meet the emergency, a tragedy heightened by helplessness might have occurred. Artificial respiration is a good thing for everyone to know and the Red Cross, Boy Scouts and other organizations that teach it are engaged in a worthy project that too often passes unnoticed.

Warning on an Appointment

Howard C. Patterson's appointment to the Securities and Exchange Commission, which the Senate has just confirmed, continued a disquieting trend in Washington. Mr. Patterson, a Virginian, formerly was a partner in a firm belonging to the New York Stock Exchange. In the federal post to which President Eisenhower has appointed him, he will help regulate the business he used to conduct.

Earlier Eisenhower appointees to the regulatory agencies have taken the same turn of making the regulated the regulators. Edward F. Howrey, former lobbyist, was named chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, which is supposed to regulate the interests he represented. George C. McConaughy, a telephone company lawyer, was named chairman of the FCC, which regulates the telephone business. Jerome K. Kuykendall, partisan of private power companies and foe of public power, was appointed chairman of the Federal Power Commission, which regulates power companies.

Mr. Patterson's appointment carries the still further handicap that it makes industry representation on SEC unanimous. There is not a single representative of the public among the five commissioners. We have this on the authority of a statement by six members of the Senate Banking Committee who protested the committee's clearance of Mr. Patterson and carried the fight on the appointment to the Senate floor.

The Senators in question are Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the banking committee; Sparkman of Alabama, Douglas of Illinois, Lehman of New York, Monroney of Oklahoma and Morse of Oregon.

The warning signal the six Senators held up is not for the Senate alone. It is also for the President. The practice of choosing protectors of the public interest from among the interests the public is to be protected against is a questionable one to say the least. It invites abuse. It opens the way to destroying regulation from within.

Gangster and the Little Girl

Nicola Impastato, a 55-year-old gangster, and Janie Edith Thomas, a 4-year-old girl, both are carrying on fights to remain in the United States. Impastato, an illegal entrant from Italy, a professional killer, a Kansas City gangster and convicted wholesale dealer in narcotics apparently has at last lost his fight. Janie Thomas apparently is going to win hers.

Impastato, who knew some influential people in Kansas City, had the aid of Senators Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina and Langer of North Dakota, who sponsored a bill to save him from deportation. But the Senate Judiciary Committee has voted unanimously to postpone the measure indefinitely and thus opened the way for his deportation.

Janie Thomas did not know any influential people—and neither did her parents—so despite the fact that she had no criminal record she has had a rougher time than did Impastato. She was born to her soldier father and Italian mother in the then free city of Trieste. After they all landed in this country in 1952, the Federal government checked and found that Janie could be admitted legally only "if the American parent had had 10 years of residence in the United States, at least five of which were after attaining the age of 16 years." As her father was only 20 when she was born, he lacked one year of the necessary five.

Then the Army sent Private Thomas to Germany and someone served Mrs. Thomas, who remained in this country with her husband's family, with a "warrant for arrest for alien." Pvt. Thomas returned. He has to make monthly parole reports on Janie. Representative Schenck of Ohio introduced a bill to legalize Janie's entry and when her case came to public attention last week, Gen. J. M. Swing, the Immigration Commissioner, said there was no intention "to deport this little girl."

All of which seems to show that whether it is a little girl enmeshed in red tape or a gangster tangled in the strings he is pulling, everything finally works out for the best once the public is informed about it.

No Urbiculture. No.

A United States Department of Urbiculture—that's what Representative J. Arthur Younger of California wants. He thinks the Department of Agriculture is getting the best of everything for the farmer. His Department of Urbiculture would be intended to provide something on the order of "a square deal for the city fellow."

Be it said right here at the outset that Representative Younger is on dangerous ground. Shifting sands, no less. No sooner would he have gotten his Department of Urbiculture than the fellows living just on the outskirts on Urbiculture but not quite out as far as Agriculture would be hollering for a Department of Suburbiculture.

Then the fellows from the small towns would be left outside, where it is cold. Where, they would say, has our sense of justice gone? What about a Department of Smalltowniculture, fellows? And so on and so we mean so on.

Nope. Better leave well enough alone; or, if Representative Younger wants to look at it that way, better leave not quite good enough alone. When you open up as limitless a series of precedents as that Urbiculture dingus would do, it can be more bothersome than all Pandora loosed from that justly-celebrated box of hers.

A Midshipman Left Guessing

The New York Times says the second-ranking student at the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y., has been refused a naval reserve commission. The student and star athlete, Eugene William Landy, thinks the commission is being denied because his mother once was a Communist.

It is most unfortunate that a good student was left to guess at reasons for discrimination against him. It would be even more unfortunate if Landy's guess were true. He says his mother broke her Communist party connections in 1947. But what is far more to the point, no case of disloyalty has been made against Landy. Why should a 21-year-old midshipman with a fine training record be judged for something a parent did more than 10 years ago?

A naval spokesman finally said there was no question of Landy's loyalty, but he was "close to his mother." This remarkable explanation has not satisfied Senators Lehman (Dem.), of New York, and Smith (Rep.), of New Jersey, who are protesting. Landy's own classmates have signed a petition supporting him. Meanwhile Landy has a third mate's license but is preparing to sail as a seaman on a tanker.

The Air Force discovered to its credit in 1953 that disloyalty is not an inherited characteristic. Air Secretary Harold E. Talbot stopped the discharge of a young lieutenant named Milo Radulovich whose father was alleged to have engaged in subversive activities. In the same spirit of fair play, the Navy Department owes Landy either a sound explanation of the refusal to give him a commission, or a commission.

Calling Chairman Strauss

Chairman Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, who is to be summoned to testify what he knows about the Dixon-Yates power deal, will be a welcome and essential witness. The admiral will be scheduled for appearance before the Kefauver Anti-Monopoly subcommittee after the recess, which it is taking for about six weeks.

It was Adm. Strauss who acted as, in effect, President Eisenhower's floor leader in bludgeoning AEC into acceptance of the deal over the opposition of three of its five commissioners. There is even indication that the President's directive to AEC to sign the contract had been sought by the AEC Chairman as the means of coercing his fellow-commissioners into acting against their best judgment.

It was Adm. Strauss, with a long record of unfriendliness toward TVA, who led the fight to ram the contract down that agency's throat. Chairman Strauss, therefore, like Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams (who has so far twice declined to testify) knows a great deal the Kefauver Anti-Monopoly subcommittee would like very much to know.

It was surely of facts known to these two that Senator Kefauver was referring, among others, when he said: "We feel there are many parts of (the contract) and negotiations in connection with it that have not seen the light of day."

THIS SURE BEATS CLEANING UP AFTER A WAR

—From The Washington Post.

Missouri Lags in Jobless Pay

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Missouri trails all eight of its neighbor states in maximum unemployment compensation payments, and only two states in nation pay less to jobless; Governor vetoed bill to increase benefits; Secretary of Labor urged state action with few results.

From the Midwest Labor World

Secretary of Labor Mitchell, at the 1955 Conference of State Labor Legislation, said that "the states are once again demonstrating to the delight of their friends and the surprise of their enemies that they can meet the social and economic needs of their own citizens."

The states, without exception, failed to carry out the program Mitchell recommended, although some states did better than others in providing support for unemployed workers.

Why big business wants labor legislation left to the states is easy to understand. The states that are the least progressive can then set the pattern. Employers in New York can say: "Don't raise the unemployment pay, because my competitors in South Carolina are already paying less," etc., etc.

The roundup of unemployment compensation laws is of special interest—and shame—to Missouri citizens.

There are only two states that pay unemployed workers less, Alabama with $22 and Virginia with $24. There are three other states that pay only $25, the same as Missouri. They are Louisiana, Massachusetts and South Dakota—but at the time of the survey, a law to improve the payments was still pending in Massachusetts.

In other words, Missouri is third from the bottom, thanks to Gov. Donnelly's veto of a bill to increase unemployment compensation. The territory of Hawaii, by contrast, pays $35, and the territory of Alaska pays $45.

Eight states border Missouri, and every one of them treats its unemployed people better (and not one of them is generous either). These states and their maximum unemployed pay are:

Tennessee	—	$30 weekly
Kentucky	—	$28 weekly
Illinois	—	$28 weekly
Iowa	—	$30 weekly
Nebraska	—	$28 weekly
Kansas	—	$28 weekly
Oklahoma	—	$28 weekly
Arkansas	—	$26 weekly
Missouri	—	$25 weekly

Any way you play around with the statistics on this group of Missouri-and-neighbor states, Missouri looks bad. Four of the neighbors are "Northern" states and four are "Southern" or "border" states. Missouri's figure is $4.50 per week less than the average for the Northern group, all with Republican governors; Missouri is $3 per week less than the average for the border state group, all with Democratic governors.

Labor in Missouri has more than a man-sized job of catching up with the twentieth century. Its first big job is catching up with Missouri's neighbors.

More About the Pachucos

From The Washington Post

Several readers, including Mr. Frank Garcia of the Department of Commerce, have been setting us right about the term Pachuco, concerning which we expressed some mystification. It appears that this word had its origin in a kind of Spanish-American jive talk, or jargon, peculiar to the younger and idler set of El Paso, Tex., and the adjacent Mexican town of Juarez.

This argot, neither Spanish nor English but influenced by both languages, is apparently quite as incomprehensible to outsiders as the lingo of the Parisian underworld might be to a member of the French Academy.

Mr. Garcia, a native of El Paso who picked up some of the dialect in his high school days in the 1930s, recalled for our benefit a few examples of terms then current: canton, for casa, or "house"; refinas, for refutas, or "good"; jaime, for noia, or "girl friend"; catica, for muy enamorada, or "love-wacky."

The artificers and practitioners of the lingo were adolescents of both sexes, belonging for the most part to the poorer families. Nearly all were addicted to jive music and the wilder forms of bebop dancing, mostly in unpleasant juke-box joints.

Many experimented with grifas, or goof-balls (marijuana), and some fell into ways that kept them in trouble with the truant officers and later with the local police.

The males of the species took special pride in a picaresque dress and in mannerisms that would distinguish them from los cuadros, or "squares," who wore their hair short, behaved themselves conventionally, were fond of sports, and got reasonably good marks for schoolwork.

El Pachuco, we are told, has nothing at all to do with the Mexican city of Pachuco, but is simply the local cant word for El Paso.

Many families from El Paso have migrated to Southern California, and their younger members by talking so much about themselves and their city became known to the Califas (or Californians of Mexican origin) as los Pachucos.

As for the "mark of the Pachuco"—the tattooed Latin cross between the thumb and forefinger of the right hand surmounted by a semicircle of stars—its significance, if any, remains elusive. Mr. Garcia says that he never saw it in El Paso. Another of our informants remembers having observed it there, but is sure that those who wore it had no very clear notion of why they did so.

All our authorities are eager to emphasize two points: One is that the Pachucos are not and never were an organized fraternity or secret society.

What they have in common, besides a manner of speech and dress, are a set of bad social habits and a somewhat perverted set of values, which, however, are pretty much characteristic of modern young hoodlums everywhere.

The other point is that by no means all the Pachucos have shown themselves unregenerate.

We are happy to hear that many a former Pachuco, upon growing up, has changed his zoo-suit for overalls, and settled down to a humdrum and hard-working but wholly respectable existence.

Heroic Comparisons Might Help

From the Pierce City Leader Journal

Back in some of the Greek city states 2500 years ago it was a practice to have the senate meeting place hard by the national cemetery.

If it was on the theory that lives of the heroic dead would inspire the senators to nobler achievements perhaps American legislative bodies should revive the practice.

Congress is adjourning with no action on important measures such as highway and school construction, the President's atomic ship plan, customs simplification, refugee law revisions and health.

Similarly the Missouri General Assembly adjourned two months ago after an indifferent session with failure to act adequately on such important matters as penal and parole legislation.

The people's business as handled by legislative bodies would under the Fitch system receive a rating of little more than a single "C" which indicates slight dividend prospects.

The One Constant

"Mama didn't think the Lord was very equal about the way He distributed the joys and sorrows of this earth," (and she reminded Him of this). She called Him down about things the same as she did her children or anybody else."

In the tradition of southern Mammies, Mama was the one constant in a world of variables. This is the story of such a world—one in which ideal and reality are so far separated that one is virtually oblivious of the existence of the other.

Thus, Mama's son, Milo, can sit in his window day after day and dream of the good world that is to be, and how he is to get into it, while the golden-haired beauty he has chosen as his deliverer passes his house in the late afternoon as regularly as the day comes around without dropping the slightest hint as to the real intent of her nightly pilgrimage.

Miss Johnson's story is really two as she follows these two fated lives, and those with which they are involved, as they are propelled toward each other and tragedy. The author is herself a southerner, and writes with a deep understanding of life on either side of the quarter's walls. This is not, however, a story of racial conflict. It concerns itself rather with the disparity between fact and concept as whites and Negroes theorize about each other.

This is not a comfortable book to read. The author's first, she appears not to have learned as yet the uses of the soft pedal. Nothing is left to the reader's imagination. In some episodes, notably those dealing with violence or passion, the blood is too fiery, the torture too agonizing to be borne. It is to be hoped that she will someday learn that even the terrifying can be delicately suggested.

What she says deserves a wide reading, but, as it stands it is too heavily handed—too bald in spots to be easily appreciated.

One regrets that this subject matter has been chosen for a first attempt. Were this novel Miss Johnson's tenth, she might have veiled some of its too-naked aspects, or resisted the temptation to the dime-novel tinge.

Far-Reaching, Indeed

RAILROADING AROUND THE WORLD, by S. W. Farrington Jr. (Coward-McCann, 236 pp., $10.)

Considering its potentials, this book is a disappointment. Although profusely illustrated, almost all of the photographs are either the static type put out by equipment builders or the bright, sunny ones of the travel advertisements. They lack warmth and personality.

Worse yet is the text. For someone who is author of at least 17 books, it is unbelievable. Statements of this type are general: "The Swedish State Railways are very far-reaching, for Sweden is a far-stretching country." Collectively, though, the pictures do indicate railroading variations in other countries, pinpointing some of their more spectacular scenery. One photograph is identified as having been made in 1934, raising the question of how recent are the rest.

New British Series

THE FOREIGN OFFICE, by Lord Strang. (Oxford University Press, 236 pp., $2.45.)

This is a volume in the New Whitehall Series published in Britain, the aim of which is to provide authoritative descriptions of the work of the chief British government departments. Lord Strang, longtime Permanent Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, is well qualified to write such a volume on the F.O.

AIRLINER CRASH INQUIRY LIKELY TO TAKE 2 WEEKS

Pilot Probably Could Have Landed if Wing
Had Held 10 Seconds Longer.

By CARL R. BALDWIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

FORT LEONARD WOOD,
Mo., Aug. 6.—The slow, methodical investigation of the crash here if an American Airlines twin-engine Convair, in which all 30 persons aboard were killed, continued today, and was expected to take about two weeks.

The plane, with one engine afire, crashed in a heavily timbered area of this military reservation when the wing containing the burning engine fell off as the pilot attempted an emergency landing at the post's Forney Airport. Had the wing held for 10 more seconds, the pilot could have made a landing.

Three former St. Louisans and four Missourians were among the passengers, and three crew members who lost their lives in the flaming ravine a half mile from the reservation's runway.

Heads Investigation.
Fred G. Powell, investigator in charge of the Civil Aeronautics Board office in Chicago, is in charge of the inquiry. Three men are working under Powell's direction. One is checking the remains of the engines, another is going over every inch of the plane's fire-scattered structure, and a third is interviewing witnesses.

CAB officials, who today returned to the scene of the crash, declined to speculate on the cause after only one full day of inquiry.

The grim task of identifying the burned bodies continued last night at the Hedges undertaking establishment. About 150 bodies of the bodies had been identified up to this morning and five were sent to Springfield, Mo., by ambulance for transshipment on an American Airlines cargo plane to their home cities.

Those that have been sent to their homes are the bodies of Donald D. Carr-Harris, Trenton, N.J.; Tilson J. Farough, Royal Oak, Mich.; Miss Karen Franks, Milwaukee; the Rev. George L.
Krook, former St. Louisan and Maryknoll missionary, Maryknoll, N.Y.; and Robert Zellens, Chicago.

Dental Records Sought.

Identification of all bodies, so far known, has been done through dental records by Dr.
Kenneth L. Stratton, assistant medical director of the airline.
Officials worked late last night telephoning all parts of the country for dental records of victims to hasten identification.

The family of Stanley Holderby of Aurora, Mo., claimed his body late yesterday and had it sent for burial to Clever, Mo., about 10 miles east of his home town. Donald F. Ballard of San Bernardino, Calif., brother of stewardess Thelma R. Ballard of Tulsa, Okla., arranged to have her body sent to her parents' home in Salisbury, N.C.
Ballard was en route to Salisbury on his vacation when he heard of the plane crash and his sister's death.

American Airlines issued a statement last night in which officials expressed their gratitude for the co-operation of officers and men at Fort Leonard Wood in "providing all we need."

DRURY COLLEGE PRESENTS
HONORARY LL.D. TO SHEPLEY

Chancellor Ethan A. H. Shepley of Washington University was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Drury College in Springfield, Mo., last night at the summer commencement exercises.

The degree was presented by Drury president James F. Findlay. Prof. Edmund G. McCur-tain, head of the department of sociology at Drury, read the citation for the degree. Prof.
McCurtain earned a Ph.D. degree at Washington University in 1951.

Shepley spoke at the commencement exercises on "What Is Happening to Our 'Eternal Vigilance'."

$1,200,000 GIVEN BY U.S.
TO U.N. REFUGEE FUND

UNITED NATIONS, Aug. 6
(AP)—The United States today notified the United Nations yesterday it is contributing $1,200,000 to the U.N. refugee fund for 1955 and has added $850,000 to the U.N. technical assistance fund.

The United States contribution for technical assistance brought the United States total to $15,000,000 for the year, more than half of the $27,984,758 so far pledged by all countries, a record.

The United States refugee fund pledge tops the total of contributions by other governments, $968,091 since last January.

VICTOR H. DEERING SR. DIES, EMPLOYEE OF POST-DISPATCH

Victor H. Deering Sr., a printer employed at the Post-Dispatch for the last five years, died yesterday of complications at his home, 5370 Pershing avenue. He was 58 years old.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Leroy Wallpaper, and a son, Victor H.
Deering Jr.

Funeral services will be Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Witt funeral undertaking establishment, 2929 South Jefferson avenue. Burial will be in Sunset Burial Park.

DIES, EX-DIPLOMAT

Top-Line Spokesman in State Department for 26 Years.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (UP)— Michael J. McDermott, 26 years top State Department spokesman, died last night of heart disease at Providence Hospital. He was 61 years old.

He joined the department's press section in 1929, becoming its head in 1927. He was the official department spokesman with the press and a top-line diplomat.

In 1953, he was appointed ambassador to El Salvador. He returned from the post several months ago.

The genial, heavy-set Irishman was known to thousands of Washington officials and reporters as "Mike" or "Mac."

His job kept him in the thick of world problems. While with the department, he attended every major international conference in which the United States participated. As a result he learned things about foreign diplomats that even America's foreign relations experts didn't know.

At the opening of a session of the 1946 Paris peace conference, Mr. McDermott whispered to James F. Byrnes, then Secretary of State: "The Russians will make some concessions today."

Byrnes couldn't believe it because the Russians had been stalling.

The meeting was still young when Russia's V. M. Molotov said he was ready to make concessions. It turned out Mr. Mc-Dermott had obtained his tip straight from Molotov. The Russian had taken time to shake hands with McDermott that day instead of going straight to his chair at the conference table, and "Mac" had interpreted the action properly.

Mr. McDermott was born in Peabody, Mass. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rose Fuller McDermott, a son, Michael Jr., who is studying for the Jesuit priesthood, and a daughter, Patricia, employed at the State Department.

RUSSIAN CHURCHES URGED TO JOIN IN FREE RELATIONS

DAVOS, Switzerland, Aug. 6
(AP)—The World Council of Churches' central committee wants the Russian Orthodox Church and other Christian churches in the Soviet Union to seek "full and free relationships" with the council.

The committee, in a 2000-word message to Moscow yesterday, rejected the patriarchate's bid last February for the council's support of the Communist-backed World Peace Council. The council has turned down similar bids in the past.

The church council is composed of representative of 165 Protestant, Anglican and Eastern Orthodox churches with total membership of 170,000,000.
It emphasized its own efforts to promote peace and said refusal to co-operate with the peace council should not prevent conversations aimed at better understanding.

The letter was signed by Dr.
Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church of America and chairman of the central committee; Dr. Willem
A. Visser't Hooft of The Netherlands, general secretary, and Anders Otto Dibelius of Berlin.
Dr. Visser't Hooft said the letter was not a direct invitation to the Russian church to join the church council.

GEN. L. E. OLIVER TO SPEAK AT VETERANS' GROUP DINNER

Maj. Gen. Lunsford E. Oliver
U.S.A. (Ret.), will address a dinner meeting of the ninth annual convention of former World War II Fifth Armored Division members tonight at Hotel Jefferson.

Approximately 150 former members are attending the three-day convention which closes tonight. Gen. Oliver commanded the division in the Normandy invasion and its subsequent activities in the campaign in Europe.

Soldiers of the Fifth Armored Division were the first to set foot on German soil when a division tank column broke through at Wallendorf, south of Luxembourg.

H. E. CHALENGSWORTH DIES

Harvey E. Challengsworth, justice of the peace for the last 25 years at Fosterburg, north of Alton, died at Alton Memorial Hospital yesterday of a heart attack. He was 62 years old.

Mr. Challengsworth was employed by Rexall Drug Co. in St. Louis. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Catherine Challengsworth, and two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Gushoff of Granite City, and Mrs. Eaden R. Keith of Grand Forks, N.D. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church at Fosterburg.

News of the Churches in the St. Louis Area

ALASKA MINISTER VISITS ST. LOUIS

The Rev. Gordon Gould Seeks Funds for Proposed Alaska Methodist College.

By JOHN T. STEWART Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The first native son of Alaska to become an ordained Methodist minister is in the St. Louis area in the interest of the proposed Alaska Methodist College.

The Rev. P. Gordon Gould, now of New York, associate secretary of national missions of the Methodist Church, will speak at two Methodist churches in this area tomorrow. He will speak at 10:55 a.m. at St. John's Church, Kingshighway and Washington boulevard.

At 8 p.m. the Rev. Mr. Gould will speak at a union service of Methodist churches of East St. Louis at First Methodist Church, Thirteenth street and Summit avenue. It will be the first of four union Sunday evening services to be held by Methodist churches of East St.
Louis in August. A union service for youth will be held each Sunday at 7 p.m.

The Methodist Board of Missions is seeking $2,000,000 to establish the college on a 242-acre campus at Anchorage. It will be a fully accredited liberal arts school.

The Rev. Dr. Herman H.
Luetzow, superintendent of the St. Louis district of the Methodist Church, was one of 43 leaders of his church from the states who visited Alaska last March and took part in launching the college project. The group included 36 district superintendents.

A special offering will be taken in every Methodist Church in the United States for the new college.

The Rev. Mr. Gould was born at Unga, in the Shumagin islands. He spent his early years in the Jesse Lee Home, then at Unalakleet, now at Seward. He was educated in the United States and in 1948 was appointed superintendent of the Alaska Mission Conference of his church. Last year he was appointed an associate secretary of the division of national missions in charge of Methodist work in Alaska.

HARRIMAN SAYS HE WON'T RUN FOR VICE PRESIDENT

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP)— Gov. Averell Harriman has rejected suggestions that he might accept second place on the Democratic national ticket next year.

Harriman, generally regarded as a potential candidate for the presidential nomination, said at a press conference yesterday that he was "not interested" in running for vice president.

He said he would meet in Illinois next week with Adlai Stevenson, the Democrats' 1952 standard-bearer. Harriman reaffirmed support of Stevenson for 1956 but declined to say whether he thought the former Illinois governor would run again.

In reply to a reporter's question whether he would accept the vice presidential nomination, Harriman said: "I made myself plain on that situation in 1952. . . I said then that although it was an important office I was not interested."

Harriman leaves next Tuesday for Chicago to attend the annual governors' conference.

GOENRAAD V. BOS DIES; LEADING ACCOMPANIST

MOUNT KISCO, N.Y., Aug. 6
(AP)—Goenraad V. Bos, for 60 years one of the world's leading accompanists, died yesterday at Mount Kisco hospital. He was 79 years old.

He began his career in 1896 and was associated with such composers and musicians of the period as Johannes Brahms, Clara Schumann, Richard Strauss, Ludwig Wullner and others.

Among the vocal artists with whom he appeared were Mar-cella Sembrich, Ernestine Schumann-Heink, Frieda Hempel, Helen Traubel, Rose Bampton, Elena Gerhardt, Mack Harrell, Nell Rankin and Karin Branzell. He also accompanied violinists Pablo Sarasate, Eugene Ysaye, Joseph Joachim and Fritz Kreisler.

PLANS FOR SALVATION ARMY 75TH ANNIVERSARY IN CITY

Plans for the celebration Oct.
15-16 of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Salvation Army here were announced yesterday.

A parade will be held in the downtown area Oct. 15 featuring a 38-member band from Chicago and the Midland Division band of St. Louis. On Oct.
16, leading Salvation Army officers in the Midwest will deliver sermons in 16 churches here, followed by a general meeting at Kiel Auditorium Opera House.

St. Louis was the first national headquarters of the organization and the national weekly,
"The War Cry," was first published here.

PRINCESS GOES TO SCOTLAND, SOON SHE WILL BE OF AGE

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Bareheaded and smiling, Princess Margaret went to Scotland today to begin her summer vacation and celebrate her coming of age.

She will be 25 in only 15 days and royally free to do a lot of things—including choose a husband—without the Queen's consent.

Chaplain of 131st MARYKNOLL SISTERS TO SERVE OVERSEAS

Three Young Women of St.
Louis Area Receive Assignments to Mission Fields.

Two young Maryknoll Sisters, Catholic missionary order, who were schoolmates in St. Louis and entered Maryknoll together, have paid a farewell visit to their families and friends here, and will go to their overseas assignments in a few weeks. One will go to Bolivia and the other to Africa.

Another Maryknoll Sister from Creve Coeur will serve as a dietitian in the South China-Formosa area.

Sister Julie Marie is the former Miss Joan Fitzsimmons, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Fitzsimmons of 11 Webster roads, Webster Groves. Her brother, John Fitzsimmons, is a student at Kenrick Seminary.
Sister Julie Marie will serve in British East Africa.

Sister Maria Goretti is the former Miss Rita Bollwerk, the daughter of Mrs. Viola Bollwerk of 5217 Holly Hills avenue. She will serve in the Bolivia-Peru region in South America.

Sister Julie Marie and Sister Maria Goretti attended Ursuline Academy. They visited here for two weeks in July, then returned to Maryknoll Mother-house, Maryknoll, N.Y.

Sister Joell Marie, the former Miss Jeanne D. Houlihan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick Houlihan of Creve Coeur.
She is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and Fontbonne College. Sister Joell Marie will serve in the refugee centers which Maryknoll Sisters operate in Hong Kong and on Formosa.

RUTH I. SEABURY
DIES AFTER LONG TOUR OF ASIA

Miss Ruth Isabel Seabury of Watertown, Mass., widely known Congregational missions officer and lecturer, died unexpectedly at Muskegon, Mich., last Saturday, friends in St. Louis were informed. She was 63 years old.

Miss Seabury was on her way home from a four-month tour of Southeast Asia.

Funeral services were at Boylston Street Congregational Church, Jamaica Plain, Boston, Wednesday.

Miss Seabury visited St. Louis many times; her last visit was
Jan. 16, when she spoke at Pilgrim Congregational Church.
She was a member of the advisory committee of the Danforth Foundation, St. Louis.

A graduate of Smith College, Southampton, Mass., Miss Sea-bury joined the staff of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in 1917.
She had been educational director of the board for many years at the time of her death.

Her recent trip overseas was her third since 1949. A long news letter describing her visit to Indonesia and Hong Kong was mailed from Japan.

German Leader Praises Active Program in American Churches

Enjoys Our Friendly Church Life but Not Our Summer Weather.

The ideal Christian church would combine the American genius for organization and activity with the European concern for theology, says a German church leader who spent this week in St. Louis.

The Rev. Dr. Hanfried G.
Krueger of Frankfurt is secretary of the foreign office of the German Evangelical Church. He is in the United States under the foreign leader program of the International Educational Exchange Service of the State Department. He arrived June 1 and will leave Aug. 31.

The Rev. Dr. Krueger's job is to promote ecumenical (worldwide) interest and programs in German churches. He was a consultant at the August, 1954, assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill. His travels in the interest of world council affairs have taken him to England, France, Spain, Czechoslovakia, and Italy.

The Rev. Dr. Krueger thinks much more highly of our church life than of our weather. He came to St. Louis by train from San Francisco, Calif., where the weather was cool—he said he needed a topcoat these evenings.
It reminded him of his beloved Frankfurt, where, he said, summers are cool; when the temperature reaches 75, they call it summer.

The afternoon when he was interviewed here the temperature was near 100 degrees.
He was surprised to be told

MAPLEWOOD CHURCH CALLS NEW PASTOR

The Rev. Vernon Sisco Will Serve Baptist Congregation, Starting Tomorrow.

Maplewood Baptist Church,
Marshall boulevard and Marietta avenue, has called the Rev.
Vernon Sisco as pastor and he will begin his ministry there tomorrow.

He succeeds the Rev. Homer E. DeLozier who resigned to become superintendent of the St.
Louis Baptist Mission Board.

The Rev. Mr. Sisco was recently graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. While a student there he was pastor of Salem Baptist Church, South-ville, Ky. He was the pastor of First Baptist Church, Caruthersville, Mo., for four years. He went to the Louisville seminary from a pastorate at Albuquerque, N.M. He is a graduate of Union University, Jackson, Tenn. He is married and has three daughters.

Walker Threatens Crackdown on Cardinals After They Lose Another

Manager Is Fed Up With Lack Of Punch

By Bob Broeg

Harry Walker, fed up with lack-fringed losses suffered by the Cardinals, has threatened to crack down as hard as the old-fashioned, rock-and-sock slide with which rugged Jim Green-grass decided last night's game at Busch Stadium in favor of Philadelphia.

It was the savage slide by which the 205-pound Green-grass unhinged Bill Sarni from the Philadelphia outfielder who first impressed Rogers Hornsby with his all-out effort three years ago in the Texas League. Green-grass' hustle won him a place with Hornsby at Cincinnati. "Yeah," the husky towheaded athlete grinned in the visitors' dressing quarters. "I guess Rog would have liked that slide, all right." His smile faded. Green-grass added, "But I didn't mean to spike the plate and I wanted it, that's all."

Walker, to whom the conversation was related, snapped out an affirmative. "Darn footin' he wanted the plate and he took it," the Redbird manager barked. "That's the way to play ball, the way guys like (Enos) Slaughter and others won reputations as well as ball games and championships."

"But some of my kids seemed shocked and hollered, 'Dirty play' from the bench when Green-grass banged into Sarni. I told 'em to knock it off then because they were dead wrong and, yeah, I had more to say about it afterward."

Walker was angrier than at any time since succeeding Eddie Stanky as Redbird field leader about 10 weeks ago. "It's about time," he said sharply, "that the Cardinals' tradition means something to some of these fellows. I'm fed up with those blankety-blank bases on balls and the tense pitching that gets pitchers behind hitters to the point they groove a fat one. I'm fed up with our right-handed hitters not hitting left-handers. Criminy, five of the six we got tonight off that sore-armed guy (Curt Simmons) were by left-handed hitters."

"But mainly," The Hat emphasized, "I'm fed because some of these fellows seem satisfied to sit back. You've got to step out and take charge in this game or go back to the bushes. It's no pink tea up here."

Indeed, it's not, Green-grass demonstrated as he jarred Sarni loose from a perfect throw, cutting the catcher on the left wrist and forearm and right thigh and, as Trainer Bob Bauman observed, snapping back Bill's head and stunning him with the force of the impact.

Pitching Off Again. The irresistible force met the immovable object and something gave, all right, as a climax of another game in which Redbird relief pitching again was even more timid than last night's St. Louis batting.

Philadelphia's outfield the Cards 11 to 8, but between the time Bobby Morgan homered off Luis Arroyo in the first inning and Del Enos tied off again, Floyd Woodbridge in the ninth, the Phillies needed four walks and two errors to score more than once.

Following Richie Ashburn's infield hit and previous to Gran Hamner's scratch safety, Arroyo committed a two-base wild throw on an attempted pickoff to set up a gift run in the third inning, then was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth as a walk, a single by Sarni and an infield out produced the first home team tally off Simmons.

Simmons, not throwing with the speed of old, ran out of friendly right-handed hitters and into trouble in the sixth when in rapid succession Wally Moon singled, Stan Musial doubled and Bill Virdon, the third straight left-handed batter, tripled 'em both across. Virdon then scored on Ken Boyer's safety off Ron Neasey.

Birds Unable to Hold Lead. With a 4-2 lead, Larry Jackson, Arroyo's replacement, gave up a run in the seventh on singles by Andy Seminick and pinch-hitter Mary Baylock, followed by Ashburn's infield out. And in the eighth a one-out walk to Willie Jones brought on disaster, for Green-grass' double to right-center tied the score.

Here, Paul La Palme, making his forty-first appearance and seventh in the last eight games, came in to face left-handed-hitting Eddie Waitkus. Waitkus' sharp single to center was fielded smartly by Virdon, whose strong accurate throw to the plate had Green-grass out until, as mentioned, Sarni went one way and the ball another.

Brooks Lawrence, taking over, then walked three men with two out to force in a run. Irritate $455 cash customers and it must be apparent, further aggravate a manager who must wish at times his own name was Runner instead of Walker.

Braves Buy Pitcher. MILWAUKEE, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves purchased pitcher Marshall Bridges of the Class B Amarillo (Tex.) club and signed him to a contract with Jacksonville in the Class A Sally league. Bridges won 11 and lost one with Amarillo. He had 144 strikeouts in 114 innings.

200th Homer for Pride of The Hill

Catcher YOGI BERRA, St. Louis's gift to the New York Yankees, is congratulated by teammate JOE COLLINS, next batter, after his three-run homer that beat the Detroit Tigers, 3-0, at Yankee Stadium last night. It was Yogi's nineteenth of the season and the 200th of his major league career. The umpire is LARRY NAPP.

Woman Golfer Gets Ace in Tam Tourney

CHICAGO, Aug. 6 (UPI)—Fay Crocker, Women's National Open champion from Montevideo, Uruguay, scored a hole-in-one on the third hole of Tam O'Shanter yesterday in her second round in the "All-American" open tourney.

Miss Crocker used a seven iron to knock the ball into the cup on the 140-yard hole. It was her eleventh hole-in-one and her first since April, 1942.

It was the first time a woman has scored a hole-in-one in the tournament, but the fifth time it has been done. Other players to make holes-in-one in the event were Byron Nelson, Billy Sixty Jr., Gene Sarazen and George Bayer.

Former Grid Star Dead.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Aug. 6 (AP)—Dwight M. (Goldie) Griffith, 71, who captained the University of Iowa football team in 1904 and later served as freshman coach, died yesterday. He was Bakersfield's high school coach from 1916 to 1946.

Gran Hamner, back in the Phillies' lineup this week after a long siege with painful burrs in his left shoulder, singled twice.

A handsome, prosperous visitor was Johnny Beazley, who as a Redbird rookie in 1942 won 21 games and more in a memorable world series in which the Cardinals upset the Yankees. Beazley, now a beer distributor in Nashville, Tenn., recalled that on the same day he reported in September, 1941 from New Orleans, three players

Tailend Clubs Send A.L. Flag Race Into Virtual 3-Way Tie

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—Baltimore and Washington, reluctant tailenders, have made the American League race as tight as a cork in a bottle. The Orioles and Senators, supposedly the soft touchers who were to give Chicago and Cleveland the edge on their Eastern swing, pulled the string last night and sent the first place brawl into a virtually three-way tie.

Baltimore topped the White Sox 2-1 in 11 innings and Washington rapped the Indians 7-5 while New York moved up from third place with a 3-0 decision over Detroit on Yogi Berra's 200th home run.

And while the last place Orioles and seventh place Nats were starting, sixth place Kansas City knocked off fourth place Boston, 5-2.

The White Sox still hold the lead, but by a mere 2 percentage points over the Yanks and Indians. Boston is two games away in the standings.

Chicago errors figured in both Baltimore runs, with the clincher coming home as reliever Millard Howell muffed Willie Miranda's slow roller with the bases loaded. Until the last of the eleventh, it had been a pitching duel between Jim Wilson, poison for the first division, and ex-Oriole Harry Byrd.

The Sox had the bases loaded with none out in the tenth, but Wilson, who gave up the Chicago run in the first inning, worked out of it on a double-play and George Kell's infield out.

Sal Maglie Is Routed. At Washington, the Nats gave Sal Maglie a rude howdy to the A.L. The veteran right-hander, belted by the National League so much the New York Giants sold him to Cleveland last Sunday, gave up five runs in the first two frames.

Dean Stone tamed the Tribe on four hits until the Indians broke out for their five runs in the ninth.

Joining Bill Dickey, Gabby Hartnett and Roy Campanella as the only catchers ever to slug 200 or more homers in the major leagues, belted a 3-1 pitch in the fourth inning after Tiger rookie Jim Bunning had issued his only two walks. Don Larsen, winning his second since coming back from the minors, had some wobbly moments but fanned pinch-hitter Ken Phillips to end it with two men on base in the ninth.

Moments earlier, Hank Bauer had stretched into the right field stands to rob Frank House of a two-run homer. Kansas City snarled the Red Sox with Gus Zernial's two home runs and a double and the relief work of Tom Gorman. The right-hander saved Vic Raschi's

New Hampshire Gets $1,293,105 Share From 28 Days of Racing

SALEM, N.H., Aug. 6 (UPI)—Rockingham Park closes a 30-day summer meeting today with the state's share of revenue was ahead of last year.

Through Thursday's races, the state reaped $313,000 more than the comparable first 28 racing days of 1954. The state's total revenue was $1,293,105.

Part of the increase was due to the 1 per cent increase in the state's share of the pari-mutuel cut. The rest was a result of what the track called "more than satisfactory" attendance despite two heat waves.

A fall meet, with 24 racing days, is scheduled to start Labor Day. It might include the first State Sweepstakes race in New Hampshire.

Hartack Takes Lead. CHICAGO, Aug. 6 (AP)—Willie Hartack and Willie Shoemaker, a couple of jockeys battling it out for the national riding championship, had only one run in yesterday and Hartack came out the winner.

Hartack, riding Bee Free in the second race at Washington Park, beat Head For Home and Willie Shoemaker by a nose. Hartack also won the fourth race aboard Hoop Band. The two victories gave Hartack 232 triumphs to 229 for Shoemaker.

Driver Fageol's Career Ended by Gold Cup Crash

SEATTLE, Aug. 6 (AP)—A complete backflip by the Slo-Mo-Shun V after it "took off" from the water traveling around 160 miles an hour took the defending champion completely out of this year's Gold Cup picture yesterday and probably ended the racing career of Lou Fageol, daredevil driver.

A squabble among the drivers, precipitated by the resignation of Referee Mel Crook, Montclair, N.J., over the issue of "flying starts," also threatened to cut the field for tomorrow's "world series of racing" drastically. Ten boats had qualified by nightfall last night.

Fageol, of Kent, O., dived from his somersaulting hydroplane to escape death, as he has before in accidents of a long career, but he suffered probable broken ribs and a punctured lung, as well as back injuries.

Thousands of spectators and officials watching Fageol's qualifying attempt from the shore and additional thousands watching in via television witnessed the spectacular Slo-Mo V accident.

Fageol was roaring down the back straightaway toward completion of his third and final qualifying lap when disaster overtook the V.

The sleek craft started rocking from side to side as a northerly wind caught under the sponsons. Then the bow started to lift, almost imperceptibly.

Then the wind whipped under the boat in force and the bow started a rapid rise until only the sponson of the craft remained in the water, leaving a thin white wake.

As Fageol fought for control, the Slo-Mo V lifted completely out of the water, literally taking off as a plane would.

Her stern kicked forward and the boat took a complete back somersault, landing upright on the water again.

Fageol kicked himself from the cockpit of the boat and landed on his back in the water and struggled feebly as a Coast Guard rushed to rescue him from the lake waters.

Up until the accident Fageol had rammed the V two and three-quarter lengths around the Gold Cup course at an average speed of approximately 117 miles per hour.

In his hospital room, he answered his wife's query of "Honey, don't you think you've had enough racing?" with:

"You're right. I guess I've had it."

Stanley Donohue, Seattle businessman and former speedboat driver, was named referee by the race committee to take over, pending approval by the Detroit office of the American Power Boat Association.

Terwilliger Escapes Serious Injury When Hit by Pitched Ball

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6 (AP)—Wayne Terwilliger, New York second baseman, is hatching a goose-egg sized lump on his forehead.

He was beaten by a pitched ball in last night's New York-Cincinnati contest. The force of Johnny Kilpatrick's fast ball split Terwilliger's forehead.

"That's what saved him," said Dr. George Ballou today.

He'll be out of the lineup "just Sunday or so," the Christ hospital physician said.

Pictures showed no fractures. He rested comfortably.

Don Liddle also was hit by a pitched ball but he was not hurt. Manager Leo Durocher rushed from the dugout, in apparent intent on protesting the aim of the redleg pitchers. He declined to discuss the incident with a reporter today.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 (AP)—Curt Roberts, Hollywood second baseman who came to the Stars this season from Pittsburgh, was here by a pitched ball last night and carried off the field on a stretcher.

It was the second time in two months that Roberts had been knocked unconscious by a pitched ball. Van Fleet was pitched in the eighth inning when Roberts was beamed by a fast ball. On June 8, Bubba Church of Los Angeles felled Roberts with an inside fast ball. Roberts missed several weeks of play. Only his plastic helmet saved him from a fractured skull.

The Giants had four three-run spurts, then had to hold off the Redlegs in a four-run ninth.

POST-DISPATCH Sports

6A Sat., Aug. 6, 1955 ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Mrs. Babe Zaharias, Hospitalized Since May, Has Second Cancer

GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 6 (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, woman athlete of the century, has developed a second cancer but "firmly expects to return to golf."

George Zaharias, her husband, said last night doctors at John Sealy Hospital here found a "small cancer lesion" on the right side of the sacrum (posterior of the pelvic girdle). He said X-ray treatments have been started.

Zaharias quoted the doctors as saying the X-ray treatments would stop the pains she has been suffering in her right hip and leg about 10 days. He said no surgery was contemplated at the time.

Mrs. Zaharias underwent surgery for rectal cancer at Beaumont in 1953. Her athletic career, which has spanned more than two decades and included just about every sport in the books, appeared at an end.

However, the operation was believed to have completely removed the cancer and The Babe returned to the tournament trail. She won several tournaments, including the National Open last year.

The Associated Press recently named her "woman athlete of the century."

Since 1953 Mrs. Zaharias has been reporting here for periodic checkups.

Earlier this spring she complained of pains in her back and legs and entered the hospital here in May. She was found to have a ruptured spinal disc and underwent corrective surgery.

The surgery failed to stop the pains and doctors started looking for new causes. The new cancer was announced last night. Mrs. Zaharias has not left the hospital since May.

The big ex-wrestler's voice softened as he told of breaking the news to his sports wife.

"She never flinched when told she had another cancer," he said. "This is my greatest battle."

Zaharias said she was very thankful to her friends and well-wishers for their prayers and messages and wants them to know she'll "do her best."

Buchholz and McKinley Win In Jaycee Play

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 6 (AP)—Second-seeded Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, smashed his way into the fourth round of the National Jaycee tennis tourney here yesterday by defeating Donald Swan, 6-0, 6-1.

Charles McKinley of St. Louis also won his third round boys match, beating Jim Musell, W. Va., 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

Dick Horwitz of St. Louis lost to tenth-seeded Junior David Newb of Chicago in the third round, 7-5, 6-1.

Art Andrews, top seeded in the junior singles, sailed past Tommy Robinson of Baton Rouge, La., 6-2, 6-2.

Neely of Atlanta, Ga., No. 1 in the boys division, downed Mychal Wessner of West Virginia, 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles play also started with top-seeded Leslie Dodson and John Erickson of Kalamazoo, Mich., beating Randy Hoffman of Philadelphia and Lowell Lathrop of St. Louis, 6-2, 6-3, in the second round after a bye in the opening round.

Buchholz and McKinley drew a bye in the doubles.

European High Jump Champ Beats Shelton

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 6 (AP)—Sweden's European high jump record holder Bengt Nilsson defeated United States champion Ernie Shelton of Los Angeles last night for the sixth time this summer, slipping over 2.06 meters (6 feet 9 1/4 inches). The 21-year-old Swedish schoolmaster cleared the bar on his first try, while Shelton needed two tries.

Shelton has managed to win only two of their eight high jump duels.

Air Force won both the 200-meter and 400-meter dashes, clocking 21.8 second and 47.9 seconds respectively.

Josh Culbreath of Morgan State, won the 400-meter hurdles in 52 seconds and Don Vick of U.C.L.A., won the shotput with a heave of 16.90 meters (55 feet 5.35 inches).

Harold Conolly of Boston, won the hammer throw with a 57.89 meter (189 feet 11.8 inches) heave.

Sweden's Ingvar Ericson defeated Fred Dwyer of New York in the mile race in 4:06 to Dwyer's 4:07.6. Dennis Johanson of Finland finished third in 4:08.6.

New York Printers End Washington Team's 16-Game Win Streak

DETROIT, Aug. 6 (AP)—New York plays Boston and the winner meets Washington today for the Union Printers' national baseball tournament title.

New York gained the final of the double elimination tournament by defeating previously unbeaten Washington, 6-3.

New York Southpaw Bob Brown held Washington to nine hits in ending the club's 16-game winning streak.

Liberty Soccer Winner. Unbeaten Liberty soccer team scored its fourth straight County League victory in defeating Brehens, last evening at Fee Gardens, 2 to 0. Goals were scored by J. Kieborn and J. Bange. Liberty now has a three-point lead over second-place Brehens and a two-game lead over third-place St. Philip.

Aussies Take 2-0 Lead in Davis Cup Play

GLEN COVE, N.Y., Aug. 6 (UPI)—Australia, winner of the first two singles matches over Japan, was favored to clinch a berth in the Davis Cup inter-zone finals today with a triumph in the doubles.

However, Aussie Captain Harry Hopman admitted he was far from satisfied with the showing in singles yesterday, adding "Rex Hartwig showed a serious lack of concentration."

Hartwig had to go five sets to beat Kosei Kamo, 8-6, 6-8, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, but it was good tennis all the way, while Ken Rosewall and Atsushi Miyagi both played poorly in Rosewall's 6-4, 6-4, 6-1 victory.

Hartwig and Lew Hoad will play doubles today against Kamo and Miyagi on the grass center court at Nassau Country Club.

Trabert to Pass Up Newport Tournament

GLEN COVE, N.Y., Aug. 6 (UPI)—Bill Trabert, captain of the United States Davis Cup team, said that Tony Trabert of Cincinnati would not play in the Newport (R.I.) tournament next week upon doctor's orders.

Trabert is recovering from a pulled muscle, and is taking daily hospital treatments as well as heat pad treatment at Talbert's home.

Talbert said he hoped Trabert would be ready for the National doubles at Chestnut Hills, Mass., opening Aug. 15.

"If he isn't, we're in trouble," he said.

WAITING FOR DEATH

Four paces from the firing squad and only a few seconds from death, Francisco Garcia Pineda faces his executioners without blindfold in prison courtyard at Guatemala City yesterday. He and his companion, Margarito Tecun Cuque, were convicted of murders committed in the last days of the regime of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and were the first executed under the government of President Carlos Castillo Armas.

CUBAN FORMER PRESIDENT GIVES UP PLAN TO RETURN

MIAMI, Aug. 6 (UP)—Former President Carlos Prío Socarrás of Cuba abruptly canceled plans to end his three years of exile today after receiving a telephone warning of possible danger.

Prío, who went into voluntary exile after he was overthrown by Gen. Fulgencio Batista, now president, in a bloodless coup, gathered his staff at his secluded home here at 4 a.m. to announce his decision.

Prío referred to an arms cache seizure by Cuban police in Havana yesterday, and arrests of his "admirers" in the last two days.

He had planned to leave this morning by chartered airliner with his wife, two daughters and a party of nearly 30 aids, advisers and body guards.

Prío's private secretary, Col. Raul Lazaro, identified the caller as Dr. Antonio Barona, president of the weakened Auténtico political party.

Movie Star Suzan Ball Dies
After Long Battle With Cancer

SUZAN BALL

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5 (AP)—Plucky Suzan Ball, who defied cancer to make good as an actress, died of the dread disease today at the age of 21.

She succumbed to cancer of the lungs, ending a two-year fight which drew the admiration of the nation.

Her young husband, actor Richard Long, was working in a film at the time of her death and was notified by a brother-in-law, Marshall Thompson, nearly an hour afterward.

Miss Ball's pluck was acclaimed when she came back after a leg amputation more than 18 months ago to marry, star in a movie and appear in a television play.

It was hoped the amputation would cure her of cancer. But a year ago doctors told her husband that the illness had returned. He kept the news from Suzan and they went ahead with night club engagements.

"What Suzan Wanted," "It was what Suzan wanted to do," Long, 27, said recently. He managed to keep her unaware of her true condition until about three months ago.

"Sure, she was disheartened," he said. "But she came through it beautifully. Of course, you never really know how you will take it until it happens to you, but I know I could never take it as beautifully as she has."

Last July 5 she was admitted to the City of Hope medical center at nearby Duarte. She remained cheerful, and hoped that she might be cured. After diagnosis and determination of a course of treatment, the center released her to a private home.

The illness stemmed from a fall on a dance floor more than two years ago. She had just been signed to a movie contract.

No one thought the injury would keep her from work long. But the leg did not heal and doctors later decided she aggravated a dormant condition.

The following November she fell again. The leg did not respond to treatment. A bone graft was tried. On Jan. 13, 1954, her leg was removed.

She bounced back to seeming health and soon learned to walk with an artificial leg.

Wedding Postponed. The surgery forced postponement of her wedding to Long. They were married in Santa Barbara, Calif., April 12, 1954.

Suzan walked up the aisle, just as she said she would. Her entertainment career had its beginning at a charity bazaar at Santa Maria, Calif., where she moved with her family after she was graduated from North Hollywood High School.

She baked a cake for the bazaar. Camp Cooke soldiers saw her picture with the cake and sent the photo to a talent agent. She won a contract with Universal-International.

"I think it has brought me a better understanding of the nature of God," she replied. "It also has made me appreciate the kindness of other people."

CARMEN MIRANDA
DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

Actress Suffers Heart Attack
After Strenuous Day Completing Film.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 6 (AP)—Carmen Miranda, film, radio and television entertainer, died of a heart attack yesterday at her home in Beverly Hills.

The "Brazilian Bombshell," famed for her dancing, singing, bare midriff and fruit-salad head-dresses, was 41 years old.

In 1945, with an income of $201,458, she was America's highest-paid actress—and woman.

Miss Miranda had spent a strenuous day singing and dancing with dazzling energy.

Her husband, Producer David Sebastian, had no idea that tragedy was close at hand.

"I never knew before that she had heart trouble," he said yesterday. "But now that I look back, there were little things."

One of those "little things" happened the night before her death, when the tiny, fiery Latin was rushing through a comedy-musical sequence for a television film with Jimmy Durante. At one point she dropped to one knee, out of breath.

"That's OK, Carmy," said Durante, as cameras continued. "I'll take that line."

After the film was completed in time to beat a Screen Actors Guild strike deadline, she entertained the cast at an impromptu party at her home. Then, after the last guest had gone home, she collapsed.

Miss Miranda was born in Portugal, but her parents moved to Brazil when she was only three months old. She got her start in the entertainment world in Rio de Janeiro at 17. Producer Lew Shubert brought her to this country, where her bare-midriff costumes and fruit-salad head-dresses—and a wild, hip-swinging samba—took her to stardom in films like "Down Argentine Way" and "Copacabana."

The peppery performer appeared frequently in movies in recent years. Her last movie was "Scared Stiff" with Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

Her recent engagements were chiefly in night clubs, including appearances locally and in Las Vegas, Nev.

Her films include "That Night in Rio," "Weekend in Havana" and "Springtime in the Rockies." "If I'm Lucky," "Date With Judy" and "Nancy Goes to Rio."

PHONE CALLS
2 YEARS APART
TRAP SUSPECT

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6 (AP)—Jesse M. Perry drew a 50-day jail sentence yesterday because of phone calls made two years apart.

Sentence was imposed after a storehouse breaking charge against the Memphis (Tenn.) defendant was amended to disorderly conduct.

Testimony showed that $300 worth of tools was stolen from McKinney Construction Co. two years ago when Perry was employed there. After the break-in, he quit and left town.

When the next telephone bill arrived, the wife of the firm's owner, Mrs. Samuel McKinney, noticed three long-distance calls had been made from the office the weekend of the break-in. One was to Perry's wife in Columbia, Tenn.

Last month, Mrs. McKinney received a phone call from Perry, who said he was back in town seeking work. He told her he was in a downtown bar. Mrs. McKinney notified police and they made the arrest.

Perry denied he committed the robbery or that he had telephoned his wife.

OPINION

Today's column is devoted to teen-agers, who are invited to submit their problems to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

I'm just a mere male and I don't know whether I have a right to be heard or not, but I'd like to say a few words to those girls who write to your column about their boy friends and lack of same. You know one major fault with girls these days is that they think they own a guy because he looks at them once or twice. That's why a lot of fellows won't date much. They don't like to be tied down. Once they've asked a girl out, she calls them on the telephone and if they don't come right back with another invitation the next week, they're hurt and think they've been left at the altar. Martha, can't they see that boys don't like this? Maybe if you'll print my letter they'll take a hint.

Okay, girls. There's one of your answers, and from one who knows. I'd like to throw in another hint, too, about that telephoning. The boys' mothers don't like it, and if they have anything to say about it—and don't think they don't have a great deal to say about it—they'll use their influence in favor of the girls who are friendly but not overly so, and who don't interrupt the family dinner or a quiet evening at home with a long-winded telephone call.

Dear Martha:

I LIVE WITH MY PARENTS in a small apartment. Mother has said I can have a party, but I want to invite so many that we couldn't possibly have it in our home. Can you suggest how I could entertain the crowd? IN DOUBT.

How about a treasure hunt or a scavenger hunt? They could start at your house, and end up there for sandwiches, soda or ice cream and cake. But for most of the evening, the group will be divided into teams, out looking for such odd items as a Munny Opera ticket stub or a raw carrot or a goldfish. Or, if you prefer, you could have the items such articles of clothing as could be used by teen-agers in underprivileged European countries. Then you all could have another party to box and ship the clothing with your greetings.

Dear Martha:

MY MOTHER HAS REMARRIED and I have kept my father's name. When I am introducing her to my friends, should I mention her new name? LARRY.

Yes, you would say, "This is my mother, Mrs. Smith."

Send today for Martha Carr's free leaflets, prepared especially for teen-agers, "E for Etiquette," and "Popularity for Girls." Please inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

13 Seeks Privacy

By Frances Ilg, M.D., and Louise Ames, Ph.D.
Of the Gesell Institute of Child Development

IF TWELVE in many children represented a period of smoothing out and calming down. Thirteen brings further calming down. At twelve, however, this calming down merely brought relief from the turmoil and confusion and conflicts of the year preceding. Twelve is still vigorous, enthusiastic, outgoing, ready for anything.

Thirteen's calming down often represents a real withdrawal. At first welcomed by parents as a sign of increased grownupness, it often goes so far that they end up worrying that "Something must be wrong" with son or daughter.

However, if this calming down hasn't gone too far into withdrawal behavior, the 13-year-old usually has his emotions under good control. He feels more independent than earlier, and he acts more independently. He often separates from the family group simply because he likes to be alone. He is content with himself, rather than happy with himself, as earlier.

HAPPY MOMENTS MAY COME, but they don't usually last very long, for Thirteen tends to be definitely on the minor side of the emotional spectrum. Feelings of sadness are more intense than they have been and often he just feels "gray and dismal" for no special reason. A thing that really makes him feel troubled, however, is when his mother "gets mad and has a big talk" with him.

And this she is apt to do fairly often, since Thirteen is often less than an ideal member of the household. Often he gives the impression that his main interest in his family is to get away from it. And the characteristic calming down of Thirteen often goes so far that he is rightly described as melancholy, moody, brooding, sullen. Reminiscent of Seven, he sometimes gives the impression that he feels as if nobody likes him and he likes nobody. "Away from" is the direction in which he is apt to go.

THOUGH THE 13-YEAR-OLD may seem callous at times in his indifference to other people, he is actually extremely sensitive and his feelings are easily hurt. In public he tries hard to cover up these hurt feelings, but he may on occasion cry in the privacy of his own room.

Needless to say, it is most important, if it can possibly be arranged, that the 13-year-old have a room of his own. Also it is important that his personal privacy not be intruded upon, even when the parental impulse is simply to do something nice for him. He may prefer that you do not come into his room at bedtime, even to kiss him good-night. This strong need for privacy should, so far as is reasonable in a household, be respected. At fourteen you can be pretty sure that he will emerge and will communicate enthusiastically with you once again.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

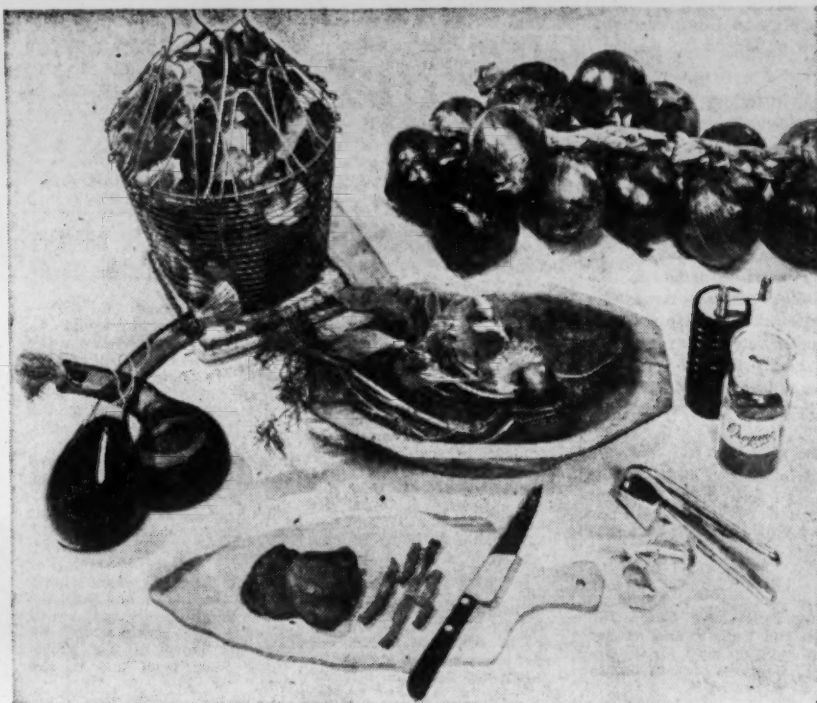

"I BELONG to a discussion group consisting of 12 women ranging in age from 40 to the late 60s," a reader tells me. "We meet once a month at a different member's house. All but one of this group are nonsmokers. The one smoker always smokes at these meetings. I can see her doing this when the meeting is held at her house but when held in the houses of the nonsmokers I think she should refrain from smoking for the time being. None of us question the right of any woman to smoke if she wants to, but we do question the good taste of smoking under the circumstances. What is your opinion?"

Being myself a nonsmoker, I naturally sympathize with you, and in any case I think that she, being the only smoker, should be more considerate of the tastes of all the rest of you.

Pimientos Add Zest to Dishes

By Edith M. Barber

SPARKLING SALAD—A TOUCH OF RED PIMIENTO BRIGHTENS A GREEN SALAD IN BOTH APPEARANCE AND FLAVOR.

EVERYTHING else being equal, most of us prefer fresh vegetables to canned products. At least in the local season. Perhaps the pimiento is the one exception to this general rule. We seldom find ripe red sweet peppers in market.

In fact, even when we can, we find those small cans of pimientos more appropriate for most purposes. The largest use for these is as a garnish, but they contribute flavor as well as color. They are seldom ignored, as are many other garnishes that are often pushed aside and remain on the plates. We do not always use even a small can of pimientos at one time. Fortunately the remainder keep very well in the refrigerator if covered with water. If pimientos are purchased in glass jars the original container can of course be used. Actually they would keep just as well in the can although not everyone realizes this even today.

You may be interested to know that the pimiento type of pepper is native to tropical America. Columbus took seeds back to Spain and ever since the introduction of the pimiento that country has been famous for the output. In fact, until about a quarter of a century ago practically all the canned pimientos were imported.

Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi provide the largest portion of canned pimientos today. Some are also canned in California, Florida, Texas and Tennessee. This is as it should be for a native American product.

The addition of a chopped pimiento or two to almost any cooked vegetable will make it so attractive in appearance that the children will ask for second helpings. The delicate but characteristic flavor of the pimiento as well as the color is an asset to egg dishes and to many casseroles. Mixed with mayonnaise and perhaps a bit of onion they are appropriate for use as a sandwich filling.

General Suggestions for Use of Pimientos

Chop pimientos into vegetables. They add zest, particularly to lima beans, peas, string beans and turnips.

Use them to add interest and flavor to egg dishes, particularly deviled eggs.

Chop them into casseroles. Slice and add them to sandwiches and salads.

They will go well with cheese, fruit compotes, with meat and with chicken.

Comment on Release of U.S. Flyers

By Eleanor Roosevelt

MEERKE, Colo.

THE release of the 11 United States flyers and their delivery into American hands in Hong Kong, occurring during the very first days of the Geneva meeting seems to show that the Chinese Communists had been contemplating this action as a friendly gesture. Quite evidently having been urged to do so as a preliminary to the discussion of all other questions, the Chinese Reds felt that a gesture of this kind would bring them a better atmosphere in which to discuss the very complicated and difficult questions which must come up, and they are probably right.

Our Government stated that the release of the flyers was preliminary to any kind of discussion, and without question both the influence of Dag Hammarskjöld, secretary-general of the United Nations, and that of India had something to do in bringing the Chinese Communists to their present attitude.

ONE OF THE GUESTS here at Elliott's ranch has just come from Oklahoma, and she states that most of the people she spoke with are primarily concerned with the oil situation and what the Administration has done about imported oil. Second in interest is the farm program and nothing else done by the Administration seems ever to be mentioned here said.

WE DROVE into Meeker, which is the nearest town to the ranch, to do some shopping this morning and it seems to me that the people here are particularly friendly.

All seemed to want to know whether we didn't find the days very warm just now. I explained that the sun was hot but that by evening I was wearing a sweater, something I would never think of doing during the month of July and early August in the Hudson Valley and in New York City.

Secrets of Charm

Pink Cloud and Reality

A GIRL may be walking around on pink clouds, with stars in her eyes, dreaming of a fairy-tale wedding. But she has to come down to earth long enough to do a little planning, so the reality . . . when she marches down the aisle will surpass her dreaming.

There are always many questions to be answered for both the bride and groom's family. Many modern couples make up their minds first, and then the bride tells her parents. There are still those who prefer the custom of having the young man call on the father of the bride.

USUALLY the father is expecting his son-in-law-to-be and is ready to accept his daughter's choice. He may go into detail as to the young man's prospects. The young couple together customarily tell the bride's mother and family. What does the mother say? She does not congratulate him, but shows some form of affection such as welcoming him into her family with a kiss.

What about the bridegroom-elect's family? When he has been accepted by the young woman's family, his parents usually call within twenty-four hours upon the parents of the bride-to-be. There are others who think this formal custom old-fashioned and have abandoned it in favor of a luncheon, tea, or dinner.

IF HIS FAMILY does quite a bit of entertaining, they should soon invite her with her fiancé to dinner or luncheon. Or, after the engagement has been published.

A WELL-PLANNED WEDDING IS A SUCCESSFUL ONE.

ly announced through the newspapers, they might give a dinner or some other party in her honor.

After a few conferences when specific plans for the future are made, the bride will find plenty of time to return to dream on her pink cloud and look at the solitaire on her finger.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

ONE hears a great deal of glib conversation about minimum and maximum openings but, on the evidence, most players have only the foggiest idea of what these terms really mean. Sad to relate, point-counters are the worst offenders. Time and again they will refer to a hand as a "dead minimum" because it contains only 12 high-card points, when the truth is that the hand was substantially better than that. The trouble is that these players count only the high cards. This habit leads straight to the sort of crime that West perpetrated below.

South, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:
South 1♠ West 1♥ North 2♠ East 2♥
Pass 1♠ Pass 2♥ Pass 2♥ Pass

East-West defeated the three-diamond contract a trick, for 200 points, but that was rather poor compensation for the vulnerable game they had abandoned at hearts.

West was aggrieved. "Why did you double, with only three diamonds in your hand?" he asked East. "If you'd passed, I would have had three hearts."

East was having too much trouble controlling his temper to make adequate reply, so we'll take over for him.

West's bidding behavior in this deal, plus the gratuitous observation he made about East's double, was one more piece of the steadily mounting evidence that strange things are happening in contract bridge. Why didn't West bid two hearts when he had the chance? Because—as he explained in a much later postmortem—"his hand was a minimum and he couldn't afford this free bid."

This is the sort of upside-down, gobbledygook reasoning that can drive sane partners to the brink. In the first place, West's hand was not a minimum, counting in the distribution. Second, if West was prepared to bid three hearts (had East passed), it appears that he could afford to bid two hearts on the previous round. Third, East's three-diamond double was not in violation—West could (and decidedly should) have taken out to three hearts.

Weekly Report On Public Health

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.
St. Louis Health Commissioner

THE common house fly is not only a nuisance, as we all know from experience, but is also a health hazard. The fly can contaminate food and is sometimes responsible for the transmission of diarrheal diseases. Their control is an important problem in the home and even more so in restaurants and other food establishments.

The entire life cycle of the fly, from egg to maggot to pupa to adult stage, may be completed in six to 20 days, depending on food, temperature and moisture. Each female fly normally produces approximately 500 eggs in her short life span, averaging 30 days. Flies feed by sucking up into their spongy mouth parts of food which they first dissolve with their saliva, leaving behind so-called "vomit spots." During feeding the fly may also pass fecal matter, commonly recognized as "fly specks."

It is, therefore, quite obvious that their breeding places must be eliminated if we can hope to control the few that do get inside our homes, even though the house is well-scrubbed and kept scrupulously clean.

A 5 per cent DDT spray solution may still be the most effective residual insecticide. This solution may be brushed on the exterior of door and window screens, sprayed under porches and around the base of the house, sprayed around the garbage and rubbish can location. Where flies are known to be resistant to DDT, spray solutions of malathion can be effectively used on outdoor surfaces.

The aerosol dispensers (called bombs) are excellent for killing flies and other flying insects indoors. They do not, however, leave much residue and as soon as the vapors are dissipated more flying insects may enter the treated areas. Aerosols containing DDT, chlorthane or lindane should not be used inside of eating places and living quarters. Pyrethrum is the only insecticide that should be used in the home as a space spray.

The old standby, the fly swatter, is making a comeback. It is the cheapest and most effective fly killer for the few strays that escape the other methods of fly control.

Answer to Question 1.

RUE. A girl dependent on her father is likely, unconsciously, to seek a substitute father to lean on. The "mom" boy is usually seeking a "mom" substitute. If the partner accepts the desired role, the marriage usually works out well. Many wealthy sons marry rich girls when really in love with a waitress or stenographer, for fear of social disgrace. It all stems from lack of emotional grown-upness.

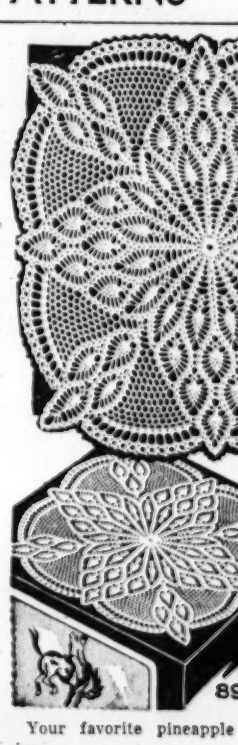

groceries, clothing, entertainment, etc. Often, the happy wife gets twice as much for each dollar as her husband would. He should appreciate the time and thought she gives to these problems, because she is increasing the purchasing power of each dollar he earns. Unhappy wives tend to buy clothes more than anything else. There are exceptions.

Uncle Ray's Column

TEN years have passed since a shocking event took place. An atomic bomb was dropped on a Japanese city. That city was Hiroshima (pronounced HE-ro-SHE-muh). Hiroshima is a seaport on the largest island of Japan. Located a few hundred miles to the west of Tokyo, it is a center of commerce and industry. The world was stunned when the explosion was announced. For the first time in history, the power in atoms had been used to destroy people. The loss of life was fearful, and buildings covering several square miles in the city were destroyed. That bombing, and a similar event at Nagasaki, brought a quick end to the war, but the world was left with a deep worry. Would another world war break out with atomic bombing as the chief feature? If so, would the new war leave the earth a worthless place? The deep worry still remains, but there is strong hope that everlasting world peace will prevail. People in every country, including Russia and the United States, hate the idea of warfare. If those in control obey the will of the people, the world will avoid fighting with A-bombs, H-bombs, germs and poison gas. Returning to the subject of Hiroshima, we may wonder whether the event caused lasting bitterness. Speaking of Japan in promoting the cause of world general, it seems clear that the peace!

people accepted the atomic bombing as part of the cruelty of war. Many words have been spoken, moreover, about the good spirit displayed by foreign military forces during the occupation which followed the war. Now, on the tenth anniversary of the Hiroshima bombing, I am able to tell about something which pleases me a great deal. A newspaper in Hiroshima has decided to publish this column! Boys and girls in the Japanese city (which has been rebuilt and which now has a larger population than it had before the second world war) will be able to read the same words in their own language as you read in this newspaper. Perhaps you know that this column appears in newspapers of several countries besides those in North America. Publication was started years ago in Brazil, Venezuela, Ecuador, Costa Rica, Israel, Spain, the Union of South Africa and elsewhere. Six daily newspapers in Germany joined our group last year, along with a paper in Portugal. Tokyo has published the column for several years, but I am especially cheered by the addition of Hiroshima. It is my hope, as time goes on, that young readers all over the globe will feel like cousins and friends. May the spirit of good will spread farther and farther, bitterness speaking of Japan in promoting the cause of world general, it seems clear that the peace!

Partly Cloudy Skies May Ease Heat

Department of Commerce

Weather conditions as of 1:30 a.m., C.D.T., August 3. Temperature figures show average for area. Arrows indicate wind flow; shaded areas indicate rain. Barometric highs and lows in inches.

Partly cloudy skies tomorrow and Monday may give some slight relief from plus 90-degree heat in the St. Louis area, Weatherman Harry F. Wahlgren said today.

Good rains from a promised cold front in the north central states have not moved down into Missouri yet, except for scattered showers, and Wahlgren said he doubts if the front will bring much real relief here.

Yesterday, with a high of 96 degrees, was the twelfth consecutive day of 90 or more temperatures here and the thirty-first such day this year, compared to 49 at this time last year. Minimum temperatures in Missouri this morning ranged from 87 at Farmington to downtown St. Louis's 80. Coolest spot in the nation was 41 at Drummond, Mont. The warmest in the state yesterday was 97 at Malden and coolest was 88 at Kirksville.

Chicago had the most rain in the nation yesterday, 2.76 inches. Other cities that received refreshing amounts were South Bend, Ind., 1.47 inches; Moline, Ill., 1.39, and Alexandria, Minn., 1.32. In Missouri, Kirksville had .90 of an inch, Kansas City received .51 and Columbia came in for only .18.
